ANNUAL MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT. }
Montgomery, Dec. 28, 1875. }

Mr. Speaker:

I am instructed by the Governor to communicate to the House of Representatives a message, in writing, with accompanying documents.

Respectfully,
L. R. DAVIS,
Private Secretary.

The message is as follows:

Gentlemen of the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Alabama:

In accordance with a duty imposed upon me by the Constitution of the State, I now submit this my first annual message to your honorable bodies.

I congratulate you upon the fact that throughout the State, since your last adjournment, peace, quiet, and happiness have prevailed, without serious interruption, among the people of whom you are the chosen and honored representatives. That our constituents have been exempt from those epidemics, so destructive to life, which have unfortunately afflicted the people of some of our sister States. That with the exception of limited sections of the State the labors of the people in all departments of business have been liberally rewarded; obstacles which at the beginning of the year appeared formidable have entirely vanished, and given place to the unerring buddings of prosperity, and a strong and growing feeling of obedience to law and order, as well as a fixed purpose for their just and equal enforcement.

For these favorable indications of a return of the prosperity of the people, as well as their continued peace and happiness, together with other innumerable blessings, of which we are the daily recipients, we should ever feel deeply grateful to the "Giver of all good and perfect gifts."

THE NEW CONSTITUTION.

Pursuant to an act of the General Assembly, approved March 19, 1875, I have the honor to lay before you the new Constitution, together with the returns of the election, for its ratification or rejection, showing its ratification by the qualified voters of the State by the large majority of fifty-six thousand four hundred and fifty-six votes.

In conformity with the above mentioned act, I published my proclamation on the 2d day of December, inst., in which I announced the vote, and named the 6th day of December, 1875, as the day on which the constitution, thus ratified, should go into effect and become fully binding and operative on all the people of this State.

It is now the fundamental law of the State of Alabama, and the important trust of framing a code of laws in conformity with the provisions and requirements is committed to you, and I am quite satisfied that the onerous and grave responsibility rests upon men who will discharge their duty with the same unselfish and patriotic considerations that actuated them in calling the Convention.

The very decided majorities given at both elections, as well for the Convention as for the ratification of the Constitution, show that the people are fully alive to the importance of having an organic law that will, both now and in the future, protect all citizens, irrespective of race or color.

I congratulate them and yourselves upon the perfect quiet and order that prevailed at both elections. The people have changed, and almost silently, the organic law of the State without one act of violence, or the least ill feeling growing out of the holding of said elections, so far as this department can ascertain. It is a circumstance without a parallel, and one of which we should all feel proud. With thoughtful and wise legislation on your part the career of this State is as certain to be prosperous in the future as it has been unfortunate in the past.

It would be quite unreasonable to hope to have a Constitution for a State, framed by human agency, entirely free from fault or objection. People differ in their respective judgments; one will approve while another will condemn the same provision in the same constitution. Such is, doubtless, true of the Constitution so recently ratified—we could expect nothing less. It is, however, the high and solemn duty of patriots and statesmen to judge of it reasonably, and to perfect it, as defects or mistakes shall be made to appear, if indeed any such exist.

REPORTS OF TREASURER AND AUDITOR.

I transmit herewith the annual reports of the State Treasurer and the Auditor, from which you will ascertain the operations of those departments for the fiscal year ending 30th September, 1875. The expenses of the administration of the government of the State for that year have been largely reduced, but not so much as I had hoped.

I will refer, in a subsequent portion of this communication, to reforms which can only be made by legislative authority, and, if made, will aid me very materially in further reducing the expenses of administering the State Government.

The report of the Auditor will show you the amount of the bonded debt of the State, without interest, both the direct and contingent debt of that character. To the debt as therein shown must be added what is known as the domestic and floating debts.

I purposely avoid, however, a discussion of the debt of the State, and its present and prospective financial condition, for the reason that these subjects will be fully presented in the report of the State Financial Commissioners, which, it is hoped, may be submitted to you at an early period of the session.

STATE OBLIGATIONS.

The act of the General Assembly, approved March 29, 1873, authorized the issue of obligations of the State, known as funding obligations, to the amount of one million dollars, bearing eight per centum interest, payable in currency, half-yearly, at the several places named in said act. Said obligations were issued by my immediate predecessor, and the amount of interest, and expenses of paying interest, are as follows:

	Interest.	Expenses.
July, 1874,*	$ 8,214 60	$ 673 30
January, 1875,†	30,905 80	1,585 12
July, 1875,†	22,073 81	1,178 21
Total	$61,194 21	$3,436 63

* Paid by Bingham.

† Paid by Crawford.

You will observe that interest has been paid three times, amounting in the aggregate to sixty-one thousand one hundred and ninety-four dollars and twenty-one cents, at an aggregate cost of three thousand four hundred and thirty-six dollars and sixty-three cents.

It is my conviction that the interest paid upon the obligations has been of no essential benefit to the State; but if the policy of paying such interest be adhered to, it is advisable that the same shall be paid by the Treasurer of the State, at his office in the city of Montgomery. In that way the State will not only save the expenses incident to such payments, but the transaction would be so immediately under the eye and control of the Treasurer that he could detect and prevent errors and mistakes that sometimes occur at some of the agencies by the payment of interest on obligations that are not entitled to it, or by failing to notice with proper care the marks on the bills, and thereby pay more interest than is due. I recommend that the law be so changed as to accomplish the desired end.

At the time of the passage of the act under which the funding obligations were issued, it was not believed that they would, to any serious extent, enter into the circulation of the State, but that they would be sought by capitalists both of large and small means, as a safe and profitable investment, paying a liberal interest in United States currency. It is to be hoped that they will yet, to a large extent, take that course. They have constantly been, since they were issued, and are yet, below par, although they bear such liberal interest, payable in currency; this should not be the case, and probably would not have been, if there had not been so large an amount issued. Probably half the amount would have well answered the purposes of the State, and that amount could have been so handled by the State as to have preserved, in fact or substantially, their par value, or caused them to have been taken as a permanent investment for the benefit of the interest. I think, therefore, that it is the true policy of the State to reduce the amount outstanding to the full extent of any surplus revenue that may be in the treasury; and, to that end, I recommend that you authorize the Governor and Treasurer to retire, at any time, any amount or amounts of those obligations that can, in their judgment, be spared from other necessary and proper State uses, as provided by law.

Believing, as I do, that the interest upon these obligations is of little, if any aid, in keeping them at their face value in their circulation in business transactions, I recommend that you require the treasurer to cancel all of the interest on such obligations as are paid into the treasury, before paying them out again, which may easily be done by placing an indelible mark on, or cutting a hole through the coupon (on each bill) last to become due, and make the law provide that such mark or hole cut through such last coupon on such bill, shall be considered as cancelled, and all the interest on the same abolished.

These measures, I believe, will cause all who have such obligations, or who intend to obtain them as investments, to do so at once, and hold them, and in that way they will be withdrawn from circulation. This will appreciate them, as I believe, to a large extent, and when the retiring process shall have been repeated to the amount of three or four hundred thousand dollars, the obligations will be current in all ordinary business transactions—a result greatly to be desired.

It can hardly be doubted that a depreciated currency, in the business transactions of the State, will materially retard prosperity, and will subject the holders of such circulating medium to be depredated upon by money rings and speculators.

In view of these facts it becomes our most sacred duty to so manage the financial affairs of the State as to appreciate and secure for our people a sound and reliable currency. Time is necessary to accomplish that result, and our constituents must exercise such patience as may be requisite to the attainment of a result so desirable. These obligations must be withdrawn from circulation—they must be retired and taken up as investments. To retire them requires surplus revenue—more revenue than is necessary for current expenses; as soon as we obtain that surplus revenue then the retiring process can and should commence, and then, too, will the obligations begin to appreciate, but the process should be continued until the funding obligations shall be entirely withdrawn, and then, and not before, will our wants as to a circulating medium be met and the demands of the business interests of the State and its legitimate trade be supplied.

REVENUE.

The revenue law of the State requires thorough and careful revision and amendment, not only in its thirty-ninth section, and the 20th paragraph of its one hundred and second section, but in many other sections and provisions.

The tax upon property in this State can not be increased beyond three-fourths of one per centum, and while that tax imposes heavy pecuniary burdens upon the people, yet they will submit to it without a murmur or complaint if they shall be made satisfied of two things :

First. That such a tax is necessary, in good faith, to discharge the just obligations of the State, and protect its honor.

Second. That the burden of the tax be just and equal upon the property of the people.

All tax money is hard upon the tax payer, and if collected to be wasted upon unnecessary objects, and in extravagant uses, or, if assessed unequally upon property, it will soon become odious. The State, however, must and will be upheld and sustained in its calls upon tax-payers for money to meet just demands against it.

If the Commissioners appointed to adjust the existing debt of the State should happily make such adjustment as will bring the debt within the ability of the people to pay, I am satisfied that they would rejoice, and cheerfully enter upon a more rigid system of economy, which (if they should remain free from misfortunes,) would enable them to settle promptly whenever the tax should become due. They want the just debts of the State paid—the incumbrance of such onerous State indebtedness and taxation lifted—and their property, of whatever kind they possess, relieved.

They, however, feel that the present debt is so large that they can not pay it and support their families, but if it can by any honorable arrangement be placed at a sum which they can reasonably hope to pay, they will not hesitate to meet it, and I suggest that all needful preparations to that end be made by a thorough revision of the revenue laws, so adjusting them as to make the property of each tax-payer pay the same rate of taxation upon a just and properly equalized valuation, and that the amount collected will meet the necessary and economical uses of the State.

In the revision recommended by me, I invite you to look into the very large amount allowed tax collectors for "errors and insolvencies." That there may be "errors" and sometimes, and in rare cases, "insolvencies," is very reasonable, but in many cases the amounts allowed and credited to the collectors, under these heads, are very large, and I fear are allowed by the courts of county commissioners more as a matter of form, because the tax collector asks it, than because after proper and strict examination they find it to be right.

It is difficult to understand how property assessed at a fair value for taxation should not thereafter be worth the tax of three-fourths of one per centum of that assessed value. I know that property assessed for taxes may be destroyed by fire, death or other accidental causes, but in all such cases the evidence could and should be taken in writing, either upon the examination of the witness in open court, or in some other way which may be considered more suitable by the General Assembly. This evil should be corrected.

I might apply, with propriety, much of the preceding paragraph to the action of the boards of equalization in the various counties in the State. There appears to be a want of attention by those boards to the vastly important duties devolved upon them.

By reference to their action in different sections of the State and in different counties in the same section, and, indeed, in different localities in the same county, there is seemingly an inexcusable inequality in the assessed value of property. The members of those boards often appear to take but little interest in the discharge of their duty in equalizing the taxes, greatly to the injury and loss by the State and counties of their revenue, as well as to the discontent of the tax-payers on account of the unjust inequality of their taxes. I earnestly invite your attention to this branch of the revenue law, with the hope that a remedy may be applied that will cure the existing evil.

Equality between the tax-payers in bearing the burdens of the State government, is a right each one may unquestionably claim; and if the State, through the instrumentality of any of its departments, should fail to secure such right, the people will and should complain and protest.

Our courts of county commissioners and equalization boards should by law be required to guard with greater care against the errors to which I referred in this communication.

LANDS BOUGHT BY THE STATE.

The Auditor states as the nearest approximate estimate he can make, without a thorough examination of the books of his office, that the State has bought lands, which were sold under its laws for taxes within the nine years from 1865 to 1874, amounting to (4,800,000) four million eight hundred thousand acres. It is doubtless true that much of this amount consists in lands that have been purchased by the State several times for taxes assessed against it after the first purchase without the same having been redeemed, and therefore it is impossible to tell without the most accurate examination the true state of the case in this regard or the precise number of acres owned by the State at this time. It would, however, be entirely safe to put the amount now owned by the State at two million acres. Within the same nine years the former owners have redeemed of those lands only two hundred and ten thousand acres (210,000) thus leaving in the ownership of the State probably two million of acres.

The amount of taxes represented by those lands, now held by the State, is over six hundred thousand dollars, while the average amount received annually for the redemption of lands thus bought by the State is only three thousand dollars.

These facts show a state of affairs much at war with the interest of the State as well as that of the tax-payers. That the State should own so large an amount of lands bought for taxes, is almost incredible, and the small amount redeemed by the former owners is evidence to my mind that the whole subject should undergo the most rigid examination by you, that some remedy may if practicable be found and applied.

The lands referred to, after being bought by the State, are almost invariably kept, managed and cultivated, or rented out by and for the use of the former owners free from rent, tax or other expense to them, and it seems that hundreds of thousands of acres are thus held and used, representing, according to the estimate of the Auditor, over six hundred thousand dollars of the tax money due to the State and counties. This should not be. It would be much better for the State to adopt some rule of action by which the lands thus held should pass into the hands of persons who will pay taxes upon and cultivate and improve them, and by their production add to the wealth and prosperity of the State and its citizens.

I recommend that you first offer them to their former owners for taxes and costs, or for such other sum as you may think best, and require that they be taken or redeemed within some time named in the law, and if not by them redeemed upon such terms as you may be willing to allow, then make some other and such other disposition of them as may seem to you proper and best.

It should be, and doubtless is, the desire of all good citizens to see the lands within the limits of the State, owned, occupied and cultivated by those who will pay taxes upon, improve and make them more valuable, and in that way profit the State and the community.

It would, in my judgment, be better for the State to dispose of them for a sum so small that it would be but little more than a gift, that they might be cultivated and improved, and aid by paying taxes thereafter, than to keep them in their present condition. I trust that you may devise some plan to remedy this growing evil.

STATE INSTITUTIONS.

It affords me pleasure to be able to report the condition and prospects of the University of the State; the Agricultural and Mechanical College, and the Normal School, as highly encouraging. They are fast growing in popular favor and usefulness. Their future benefit to the State as well as to the country at large, cannot be estimated. The high rank they are destined to occupy among the literary institutions of the country should be just cause of congratulation with the friends of education everywhere. They continue to deserve the fostering care of the State.

I also transmit reports from the officers in charge of the Hospital for the Insane at Tuscaloosa, and the Asylum for the Deaf, Dumb and Blind at Talladega, and ask your careful consideration of the recommendations contained in each of said reports.

Those institutions are managed with ability and success, and should be, as they doubtless are, the pride and boast of the State.

I ask your attention to the modification of the fourth section of the act of December 18, 1871, proposed by the officers of the Asylum for the Deaf, Dumb and Blind, as shown in their reports for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1874, requiring the counties to furnish suitable clothing for their indigent deaf, dumb and blind pupils. Some such amendment is necessary, and I trust you will give it a favorable consideration.

PENITENTIARY.

It is with some degree of pride that I invite your attention to the reports of the Inspectors and Warden, embracing also those of the Physician and Chaplain of the State Penitentiary.

An institution that has for some years been a heavy charge upon the treasury of the State—that by unfortunate management had become so dilapidated and expensive that it was an eyesore to the tax-payers—has, in the first year of my administration, by the management of the present able and faithful Warden and other officers, become so renovated and improved that it will, in truth, pay fully its own expenses, and thereby relieve the State of a heavy burden in keeping it up.

It must not be forgotten that the present Warden has furnished one hundred convict laborers to Mr. Thomas Williams, under a contract made by myself, for the State, with Mr. Williams, under the authority of an act approved March 10, 1875, which number he is bound to furnish for eight consecutive years, in payment for the farm purchased by the State of Mr. Williams. And in any proper estimate you may make of the receipts and expenses of operating the penitentiary, the present Warden will be fairly entitled to a credit for the hire of those convicts furnished under that contract.

During the administration of my immediate predecessor, the State purchased the farm known as the "Penitentiary Farm," of Mr. Williams, and had paid him fifty thousand dollars for it, in eight per cent. bonds of the State, to be taken up by the State as provided in the statute under which that purchase was made.

Under an act approved March 10, 1875, giving me authority to do so, I changed that contract, by which change Mr. Williams returned to the State the fifty bonds, all of which I have caused to be cancelled, together with their coupons, and I have caused the Warden, in the execution of the said contract, to furnish to Mr. Williams the one hundred convict laborers which is to be continued for eight years, in lieu of the bonds and as payment for said farm, at the end of which time the farm will be delivered in the possession of the State as its property, with unencumbered title, and also personal property of the value of six thousand eight hundred and thirty dollars and forty cents, or its value in money, and for which the State holds the note of Mr. Williams properly secured. So that instead of having fifty thousand dollars of the bonds of the State outstanding and bearing interest, as the amount due for that property, they are cancelled and the farm will be paid for by the services of the one hundred convicts for eight years from the first of the year 1875.

The Commissioners have adjusted and allowed, and I have approved claims outstanding against the penitentiary, growing out of the management of the former Warden, Mr. Larkin

Willis, amounting to two thousand and twenty dollars and fifteen cents, all of which has been paid to the parties entitled to receive the money. This action was had under an act approved March 20, 1875.

The commissioners have been unable to make any settlement with Mr. Willis, as authorized under the last above named act. Frequent applications by mail, and otherwise, have been made to him, urging a settlement, but all of no effect.

I think that settlement is too important a matter to be left open, and I recommend that you take some proper action to cause it to take place. It is not advisable that matters so important to the State, as well as to Mr. Willis, should remain unadjusted.

With suitable legislation the penitentiary could and would be made a source of profit to the State.

Under the existing law the judges, before whom criminals are convicted, have the discretionary power to sentence convicts to the Penitentiary, or to hard labor for the county, in many cases punishable by confinement and hard labor; and the practice has grown of late to be very common for the judges to sentence them to county labor, and in some countries where many are convicted, none who are valuable laboring hands are sent to the Penitentiary.

The State pays for feeding prisoners while imprisoned in the counties, which for the last fiscal year amounted to ($94,020.20) ninety-four thousand, twenty dollars and twenty cents, pays the fees to sheriffs in all cases of insolvent convicts, which last year was ($5,778.93) five thousand seven hundred and seventy-eight dollars and ninety-three cents, also pays for the arrest of absconding felons, which was for the above named year, ($3,696.10) three thousand six hundred and ninety-six dollars and ten cents; aggregating one hundred and three thousand four hundred and ninety-three dollars and twenty-three cents, (103,493.23) to which should be added other smaller items paid by the State and not enumerated in this message. It seems but fair under this state of facts that the convicts should be sent to the Penitentiary, that the State may have the benefit of their labor.

It is useless to keep up the Penitentiary as a place of punishment, if those who are convicted of felonies are sent to work for the counties, and in that way leave the Penitentiary as a useless expense to the State.

The judges now have a large discretion on that subject, and can sentence either to the Penitentiary or hard labor for the county, in most cases tried before them.

I think it would be well to modify the law in that particular, so that in all cases in which the term of service does not exceed one year it shall be discretionary with the judges to send them either to the Penitentiary or to the county, as he may think will best promote the ends of justice, but in all other cases the convicts shall be sent to the Penitentiary without any such discretion on the part of judge or jury.

I invite your attention to the suggestions in the report of the Warden upon the subject of escapes. If it be the law that the escape of a convict from a party who has him hired is not an escape from the Penitentiary, then I ask that you change the law so as to make it meet the necessities of the service.

The Warden recommends a repeal of the law requiring him to keep a State officer with the hired convicts. By such repeal you will save considerable expense to the State, but if repealed it should then be made the duty of the Inspectors to visit hired convicts as frequently as you may think it necessary for the purpose of looking into their condition and treatment, which I would be unwilling to neglect or omit, and for such services they should be reasonably compensated.

While I admit that, so far as it has been tested, the experiment of keeping an officer with hired convicts has not worked well, and some change in the law should be made, yet I think it the duty of the State to see that the convicts are humanely and properly treated, and if the State officer be dispensed with, the Inspectors, or some other officer, should be required to perform that duty, which might be done by visiting them at irregular times, and in that mode render a residence at the places unnecessary.

In addition to a law defining and punishing escapes from the State Penitentiary, I invite your attention to the subject of escapes in another point of view. There is at present no well defined responsibility upon those who have convicts in charge under a contract of hiring from the Warden, and, while thus in their charge, make an escape. I think there should be some regulation by law defining the responsibilities and duties of those who hire convicts, and particularly in relation to escapes.

CENTENNIAL.

In conformity to the act of March 20th, 1875, authorizing the Governor to appoint Commissioners to represent Alabama at the Centennial Exposition, I appointed as said Commissioners Hon. A. Cunningham, Hon. Peter Hamilton, Hon. John S. Kennedy, John T. Milner, Esq., and Hon. R. O. Pickett, who accepted and promptly entered upon the discharge of their duties. They have, however, met with many and serious difficulties growing out of the fact that they have no money to enable them to carry out the object and purpose of the act, in securing a fair representation of our "agricultural, mineral, and mechanical" interests, and to have "Alabama represented upon an equal footing with her sister States."

Such representation cannot be had without money. The act provides that no money shall be appropriated out of the Treasury of the State to enable the Commissioners to carry out its own provisions, and I have declined to connect the State, to any extent, with their expenditures or liabilities, thus leaving the whole matter, as far as the State is concerned, alone to private enterprise.

In one aspect of the case it might be proper to require those whose particular interests are represented and benefitted to pay the expenses of such representation; but this is done in the name of the State, and as if by the State; and, besides, the other States have mostly, if not all of them, made appropriations to secure a full display and representation of those articles and interests which are the pride of the State as well as the boast of its people.

The leading purpose of a display of such productions at the Centennial Exposition is to satisfy the peoples of other States and countries that they can do better by their industries in Alabama than anywhere else, and in that way and by such means induce and promote immigration to the State. Immigrants coming to Alabama and making it their home, will not only profit the particular persons who may own the lands upon which they may locate, or the mines or manufactories into which they may enter, but in much larger sense would they profit the State by developing and adding to its industries, wealth and power; and in the proportion that such industries would increase the population and wealth of the State, the taxes of the people could with propriety be reduced.

Now, if this enterprise is worth going into at all, it is certainly worth being well done. I would regret to see Alabama pretend to be represented by a display of her productions unless it were a full and fair representative display. Such a result, I fear, would tend to retard and prevent immigration, instead of inducing it.

In view of these facts and considerations, it would look to be proper for the State either to have nothing to do with it, or enable the Commissioners to have the ends and purposes of the law carried out, by making a moderate appropriation for that purpose.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

By reference to the report of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, you will understand how that department of the public service has been conducted for the past fiscal year. The amount of money at his command for the support of schools is not large, and, considering the impoverished condition of the people of the State, as well as the large indebtedness of the State itself, it can hardly be wondered at that the State has not placed a greater sum at his command for the maintenance and support of our common school system.

A people burdened with necessary personal indebtedness, as well as the great amount of State taxation, cannot well be expected to furnish means sufficient for an extensive system of common schools. It is greatly desired and confidently hoped that the dawn of prosperity is in full view, and that soon the State may be able to enlarge her common school system to an extent that will amply meet the most sanguine hopes and wants of her people.

The Constitution recently ratified by the people, has changed the amount due to the School Fund out of the general revenue, from one fifth of the net revenue to one hundred thousand dollars, unless the General Assembly should believe that the financial condition of the State would justify a larger appropriation.

The Constitution of 1868 first gave the one-fifth of the general revenue to schools, which has been kept up until the present Constitution made the change, and the present Constitution was framed a few days before the end of the fiscal year, ending 30th September, 1875, but ratified by an overwhelming majority of the qualified voters of the State, on the 16th day of November, 1875.

A question arose in the minds of some of the State officers as to the effect the Constitution would have upon the revenue of the current year. Whether the schools should receive, during the current year, the one-fifth of the general revenue, or the one hundred thousand dollars, as provided in the new Constitution. This question was submitted to the Attorney General who decided that as soon as the present Constitution became operative the appropriation of one-fifth of the annual revenue, made by the Constitution of 1868, would be repealed or annulled; and that while the new Constitution does not itself set apart any portion of the revenue, it requires the General Assembly to appropriate not less than one hundred thousand dollars for the support of the public schools, and to increase the fund devoted to educational purposes as much as the condition of the State would allow. I invite your special attention to this fact that you may at once make the appropriation, so that the amount may be under the legal control of the Superintendent, and that the schools may suffer no detriment for the want of it. The money is needed for and will be used in keeping up the schools for the current year, as has been the case each year since 1868-69, that being the first fiscal year under the Constitution of 1868, and also the first year under the then new Revenue law of December 31st, 1868. From reliable authority I learn that Auditor Reynolds declined to make an estimate for the one-fifth of the revenue of that year upon the alleged ground that he had no data or basis for an estimate, no revenue having been at that time collected under the Revenue Law of 1868; but he required the Superintendent to carry on the schools for that then current year, if carried on at all, with the other school money at his command, consisting of one hundred thousand dollars, from the general revenue, (the same as provided by the present new Constitution) together with other funds set apart for educational purposes, under section 957 of the Revised Code of Alabama. But for the year 1869-70, the case was different. Auditor Reynolds made his estimate of the amount of the general revenue for that year, based upon the receipts for the year 1868-69. The schools received the fifth of the revenue collected in the year 1869-70, and the same was used and applied in keeping up the schools for that year, and not for any past year, and such I am informed by the Auditor and his chief clerk, has been the case every year since that time—each current year furnishing one-fifth of its general revenue, the estimate for which was based upon the receipts of the last preceding year; and that fifth, when received, was applied to the schools of the then current year; in every case the fifth of the revenue, thus furnished, was used for the support of the schools of the year that furnished it. Such is true of the present year. Under the able management of the present Superintendent there is no debt of the year 1874-75 to be paid out of the appropriation for the year 1875-76, and I may well suppose that there are no contracts for the present year yet made, except such as may have been made under and in obedience to the provisions and requirements of the present Constitution.

The new Constitution, so largely endorsed and ratified by the voters of the State, in its schedule provides that such of the laws of the State in force at the time of its ratification by the people as may be consistent with its provisions, shall remain in force until altered or repealed by the General Assembly, and of course such as are inconsistent are thereby repealed or abrogated. The inconsistency between the one-fifth of the general revenue and one hundred thousand dollars of that revenue, or such additional amount as you may appropriate, is too apparent to be doubted or debated. One or the other must fall, and it will hardly be contended by any one that the Constitution of 1875, in its provisions on that subject, did not repeal and abrogate the provisions for the one-fifth as given in the Constitution of 1868.

STATE CERTIFICATES.

In compliance with the act approved 20th March, 1875, the State Treasurer made a complete record of the number and denomination of each bill, or note, known as State Certificates, in the treasury, except that held as a special deposit. As soon as the record was completed I caused each note or bill to be carefully examined and compared by number and denomination with the record made by the Treasurer, and then caused them to be burned in my presence. The denomination and amount of notes so destroyed are as follows: Twelve thousand, seven hundred and seventy-three five dollar bills; six thousand, six hundred and seventy ten dollar bills; six thousand, seven hundred and ninety-four twenty dollar bills; five hundred and eighty-four fifty dollar bills, and five hundred and sixty-five one hundred dollar bills—making an aggregate amount of three hundred and fifty-two thousand, one hundred and forty-five ($352,145) dollars. The requirements of the act were fully complied with, and the record, with the indorsement upon it, is now in the office of the Treasurer of the State.

IMMIGRATION.

In pursuance of an act approved February 11th, 1875, I appointed C. F. Seviars, Commissioner of Immigration, and A. Murdock, T. H. Herndon, Price Williams, D. Clopton, B.

M. Woolsey, G. G. Lyon, W. H. Chambers, J. C. Foster, Daniel Coleman, J. R. Hawthorne, L. M. Stone, E. S. Shorter, S. A. Fordyce and W. V. Chardavoyne as a Board of Directors for the State of Alabama.

While no report has been made to me of their proceedings or success, yet I understand they have had several meetings with reference to the important subject committed to their charge, and I trust with flattering promise of success. Mr. Seviere, as Commissioner, has been particularly energetic and active, and deserves well of the friends of the cause of immigration.

We now have a Constitution made and ratified by the people of the State, and under which they are alike protected in life, liberty and property. We can invite immigrants to come and live among us with perfect confidence, and assure them that they will at all times have the most ample protection of a just, generous and permanent government. All who may feel willing to become citizens of Alabama will find the most inviting field for profitable employment in any or all of the departments or branches of business. Great inducements are offered for the establishment of manufactories in many localities of the State, where abundant water power can be obtained and used profitably, and in close proximity to the raw material to be manufactured.

The great increase in the discovery and development of the minerals of the State embedded in our mountains, as well as the rapidly increasing demand for such productions, give promise of the most profitable employment to immigrants. We should, under all proper circumstances, avail ourselves of the many opportunities that may be presented to invite and induce immigrants to come and make Alabama their home—offering them such inducements as may be consistent with our duty to others as well as to the State.

I feel that I can not too strongly urge this subject upon your favorable consideration. Alabama is an inviting field for immigrants, and she needs them. Her manufacturing, mechanical, agricultural and mineral interests are all in a condition to be made available and used by the energetic and industrious immigrant, not only yielding to him the most liberal profits, but also adding materially to the prosperity, wealth and power of the State.

REPORTS.

Military.—I refer you to the report of the Adjutant-General of this State as to the condition of affairs in the military department. During the fiscal year companies have been organized throughout the State, and I regret my inability to supply them all with arms. I have succeeded, however, in procuring a sufficient number to arm eleven companies, who have united with those companies armed by my predecessors, and organized two regiments, of whom Alabama may justly feel proud. It was the citizen soldiery of the country that our ancestors relied upon to preserve peace at home and repel foreign invasion. A well organized militia should be maintained and encouraged in every State in the Union, not only to preserve order when the civil authorities are powerless, but to do away with the necessity of supporting a standing army, so repugnant to the feelings of every friend of free government.

COMMISSIONERS TO EXAMINE STATE OFFICES.

Under section seventy of the Revised Code, I appointed O. R. Blue, B. H. Screws and I. W. Roberts, sr., to make the examination therein required, and herewith transmit their report, in writing and under oath.

INDUSTRIAL RESOURCES.

I have received no report from the Commissioner of Industrial Resources, and consequently have no information from that department.

PARDONS.

I herewith transmit a list of cases in which pardons, reprieves and commutations have been granted, and fines and forfeitures remitted, during the fiscal year ending 30th September, 1875, together with the reasons therefor.

ALABAMA AND CHATTANOOGA RAILROAD LANDS.

It will be remembered that when the State of Alabama loaned to the Alabama and Chattanooga Railroad Company the two millions of straight bonds, the company executed a mortgage, to secure the State against said loan, upon the lands which had been donated by Congress to the State to aid in constructing that road. The mortgage thus executed by the company was upon the lands, and also upon any and all interest which the company then had or might thereafter have in and to the same. The State, by an act approved February 11th, 1870, authorized the company to sell the lands, or portions of them, and apply the proceeds of such sales, as far as they would go, to the payment of the two millions thus loaned by the State to the Alabama and Chattanooga R. R. Co.

It is reported to this department, by an agent who was appointed by my predecessor, to make an examination into that subject, as well as by others, that in the sales, or pretended sales, of much of those lands, which are claimed to have been sold and bought by different parties, frauds have been perpetrated upon the State by claiming that many sales were made, which, in truth, were never made, notwithstanding bonds for title were given. Other frauds are charged and believed to have been committed in various ways, to the serious detriment of the State. It is also charged that the agent of the company to sell those lands received in money the sum of thirty-three thousand four hundred and forty-seven and 97-100, not a dollar of which was ever paid to the State, as required by the act referred to.

In view of this fraudulent conduct charged upon the company and its agent, (and in some instances it is charged that the pretended purchasers participated in the frauds,) I ask that you refuse to allow title to be made, in any of those cases, to the party claiming to be a purchaser, until you shall become satisfied of the bona fides of the transaction. The company has never had the legal titles to those lands, and of course can never make a title of any value, unless the State shall see proper to pass it to the company, which will not likely be done.

The legal title is in the State, and will not pass out without its consent. The State, then, has the power to protect its rights in this regard, and I trust it will do it. I think it advisable that you cause an investigation to be made into those charges, with a view to having all fraudulent sales set aside and held for nought.

SOUTH AND NORTH RAILROAD.

I ask your attention to the condition of the title to the lands donated by Congress to aid in the construction of the South and North Alabama Railroad. The road has been completed, and the company is justly entitled to have a transfer of the title to those lands from the State. The opening and successful operating of that road has been the means of bringing into the State a large immigration, who have purchased lands of the company, under assurances that they would obtain proper titles. Those purchasers are becoming dissatisfied because their titles have not been perfected, and it has caused a check in the tide of immigration. If you will enable the company to make titles to those lands when sold, I believe it would not only be an act of justice to the company, but one that would greatly benefit the State. I refer, of course, to such lands as equitably belong to the company under the grant.

SUITS BY THE STATE.

I recommend that you authorize the Governor of the State, whenever in his judgment it becomes necessary for the State to sue on the official bond of a State officer, or the official bond of one who has been a State officer, to institute such suit, either in the county of the residence of said officer, or retired officer, or in the county of the residence of any one of the sureties of said party, or in the county of Montgomery, as he may deem best.

I also invite your attention to the suggestion of the warden of the penitentiary, asking authority to sue in all cases for dues to the penitentiary, or on contracts with him as warden, in the county of Elmore.

You will understand that the evidence in such cases is usually, if not always, in the county in which the penitentiary is located. That the duties of the warden are not only onerous, but require almost his constant presence in or about that institution. It is probable he may have suits with parties who live in different counties, and it would not be possible for him to attend the courts in those counties, consistent with his other duties as warden, and I approve the suggestion and recommend that he be allowed to sue in all such cases in the county of Elmore, or in the county of the residence of either defendant in the suit, as the warden may prefer.

Convicts are being hired to parties living in different counties of the State, and it would be a heavy expense to the State, as well as a great hazard of its interests, to require the Warden to litigate with them in their own counties in the event litigation should become necessary. I think it would be well to make such change in the law as I have suggested.

ECONOMY AND REFORM.

Since the repeal of the "recognizance law," the feeding of prisoners while imprisoned in the counties is becoming a very heavy expense to the State. For the year ending September 30th, 1875, notwithstanding the personal recognizance law was in force for more than four months of the year, the cost to the State amounted to ($94,020.20) ninety-four thousand and twenty dollars and twenty cents, and I am quite confident that unless some remedy shall be applied, it will exceed that sum the current year. What remedy can be applied?

In the first place I fear that our judges who preside in criminal cases are not quite as strict as they should be in applying the rules on the subject of continuances in that class of cases. I trust you will examine with care into this subject and see what can be done, and whether you can improve the law in relation to continuances in such cases. Also, whether any of the charges for feeding prisoners can be with propriety and justice reduced. The law should require the prisoners in jail to be tried and the jail cleared of its inmates, unless continued in the due execution and enforcement of the law, and if at any one term of the court the judge should not be able to reach and dispose of all of the cases of those in jail, then in every such county the judge of that court or circuit should be required to hold an adjourned term of his court at the earliest practicable day in such county, to continue until all such cases shall be tried or otherwise legally disposed of.

There is also the item of conveying convicts to the Penitentiary. For the last fiscal year it cost the State fifteen thousand seven hundred and sixty-one dollars and sixteen cents, (15,761.16) a very large increase over former years, and it grows to a great extent out of the fact that under section 3862 of the Revised Code, the judges in many cases allow the sheriff the full number of two guards to each prisoner, when in truth it is rarely, if ever necessary, and never in a case where there are several prisoners. The prisoners can be well and safely ironed, and from three to a half dozen guards could convey with entire safety three or four times their number of convicts to the Penitentiary. This is a rapidly growing evil and should be arrested by a proper modification of section 3862 of the Revised Code.

I would require all applications to the judge for guards under that section to be made in open court, and it should be made the duty of the solicitor of the circuit to resist any unnecessary enlargement of the number of guards, by order of the judge. Some such modification of that section of the Revised Code should be made.

Escapes from county jails have become too frequent, showing that the officers are negligent in the discharge of their duties or the jail is insufficient. In either event legislation is needed.

The Executive of the State is often asked to offer rewards for the arrest of prisoners who have escaped from the jails of the counties. If in such cases the counties should be made to pay the reward offered by the Governor, in the event the escape was made because of a defective jail, the jails would be repaired and made strong, and an escape from them would be of rare occurrence.

As an evidence that this Department has endeavored to practice economy and reform during the fiscal year just closed, I refer to the report of the Treasurer, which shows that from an appropriation of fifteen thousand dollars allowed for contingent expenses, I have only expended the sum of three thousand eight hundred and five dollars and twenty-six cents. I have been pleased to observe that the heads of the other Departments of the State government have inaugurated a system of retrenchment that reflects credit upon them.

CONCLUSION.

Owing to the brief period allowed by the present Constitution for your session, I have refrained from alluding to National affairs, and have confined my message to the material interests of our own State, recommending to your consideration such measures as I have deemed expedient and proper.

And now, having to the extent of my ability discharged the obligations as the Executive of the State, imposed by its organic law, I leave the great and vital interests of the people of this great and growing commonwealth in your hands, with entire confidence that they will suffer no detriment while in your keeping.

Wishing you health, prosperity and happiness, and that your every act may redound to the good of the State and the honor of yourselves, and meet the cordial approval of your constituents, I now have the honor to inform you that I am ready to co-operate with you in the duties of the session.

The house refused to concur in the report.

Mr. Wood, of Talladega, moved to amend the memorial by adding thereto the following:

Whilst the foregoing expresses the views of a majority of each house of the General Assembly, it is deemed fair to add, that a minority in each house entertain the opinion, that the Senate of the United States possesses exclusive jurisdiction of the question of the right of said George E. tain the seat he now holds in that body, and that, therefore, the General Assembly of Alabama may well withhold the expression of any opinion upon any evidence which bears upon the question of that right. This minority are in full accord with the majority in earnestly requesting the Senate of the United States, in the exercise of its exclusive jurisdiction, to make full inquiry touching the aforesaid question of right, and to pronounce the proper judgment thereon.

APPEAL FROM DECISION OF CHAIR.

A question having been made by several members, whether the demand for the previous question had been sustained by a vote of two-thirds of the members present, the speaker said that as the vote had not been taken by the yeas and nays, he could not determine any further than that the call had been sustained by a majority; but now, for the purpose of satisfying the chair and the house, he would put the question again, and test the division by a rising vote.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR,

By his Private Secretary, Mr. Davis.

STATE OF ALABAMA, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, }
Montgomery, January 24, 1876. }

Gentlemen of the Senate and of the House of Representatives of the State of Alabama :

I transmit herewith the report of the commissioners appointed under an act, approved 17th December, 1874, entitled "An act for the appointment of commissioners to liquidate and adjust all claims against the State of Alabama, arising from bonds, issued or endorsed in the name of the State."

To the report is appended a proposition for the settlement of bonds of the State, issued under certain acts therein referred to, which proposition, having been accepted in writing by the representatives of the holders of a large number of those bonds, has become a contract, subject to the approval of the general assembly.

There is also appended, subject to like approval, a contract with holders of the endorsed bonds of the Alabama and Chattanooga Railroad Company, for the liquidation and settlement of the demands against the State, growing out of that class of endorsed bonds.

The report of the commissioners presents fully and fairly the financial condition of the State, and contains recommendations to which your attention and consideration are respectfully invited.

I also submit a contract made by myself as Executive of the State, under authority conferred upon me by an act entitled "An act to protect the State in the matter of the franchises and property of the Alabama and Chattanooga Railroad Company, and of the lands donated to the State, for and on account of the railroad of that company, by acts of congress, and to authorize the present Governor to sell and dispose of the same, or any part thereof," approved March 20th, 1875, with the holders of the straight gold bonds of the State, issued and loaned to the Alabama and Chattanooga Railroad Company under the act of the general assembly, approved February 11th, 1870, entitled "An act to loan the credit of the State of Alabama to the Alabama and Chattanooga Railroad Company, for the purpose of expediting the construction of the railroad of said company within the State of Alabama."

Under the provisions of the statute referred to, I could have concluded the contract without referring it to the general assembly, but it is a matter of great importance to the State and I deem it proper to submit it to the representatives of the people before it is consummated, leaving them to pronounce upon my action.

Pending the final agreement for the sale of the lands and other property, mortgaged to the State by the Alabama and Chattanooga Railroad Company, I invited my associate commissioners to consult with me and present their views, which they freely communicated, during the progress of the negotiations, and fully approve the terms of the contract I now submit.

Having united in the report of the commissioners, it is needless for me to say that I believe the adoption of the scheme of adjustment and settlement, which they recommend, will relieve the State of an incubus, which must be removed before we can have permanent prosperity.

I trust the solution of the difficult financial problem is at hand, and that the present favorable opportunity of obtaining relief for our heavily oppressed constituency may not be allowed to pass unimproved.

Very respectfully,

GEO. S. HOUSTON,
Governor of Alabama.

REPORT OF THE COMMISSIONERS.

OFFICE OF COMMISSIONERS,
Montgomery, Ala., Jan. 24, 1876.

To the Governor of Alabama :

The commissioners appointed under an act approved 17th December, 1874, to ascertain, adjust and liquidate "all claims against the State of Alabama, arising from bonds issued or endorsed in the name of the State," have been assiduously engaged for the past year in the discharge of the duties assigned them, and, now, respectfully submit their report :

Our first duty, after taking the oath of office prescribed by law, was to ascertain the extent and character of the indebtedness of the State. In the discharge of this duty we were confronted with difficulties at every step.

The archives of the State were presumed to contain accurate and reliable evidence of the outstanding obligations of the State of every class, and under the presumption that all bonds are properly registered in the offices of the auditor and treasurer, the tabular statements of each class of indebtedness annually published by those officers are usually accepted as presenting the financial condition of the State. But our investigations soon developed the fact that the records are incomplete as to the endorsed bonds, and not entirely accurate as to the bonds extended and bonds issued and sold by the State.

In none of the tabular statements of the bonded debt, from 1872 to this date, do we find any five per cent. bonds past due—yet, we have ascertained that five per cent. bonds to the amount of $21,000, due in 1872, are now held in the city of Philadelphia.

There are bonds in the office of the treasurer, signed and countersigned as required by law, which will mature in 1883, 1886, 1890 and 1892. These bonds, we presume, were prepared for the purpose of extending part of the ante bellum bonds, but if so, they have not been called for by the holders of the old bonds, or they were issued in excess of the amount required for extension. We have ascertained that some of those bonds in the office of the treasurer are embraced in the debt statement published by the Auditor, dating back to 1872, and have been embraced in all subsequent reports of that officer.

Thinking it probable that there might be in the Union Bank of London bonds or cash, or both, belonging to the State, we caused a communication to be addressed to the manager of that bank, for the purpose of eliciting information. He responded in July last, and reported that the bank held on account of the State of Alabama twenty-five new six per cent. bonds for £225 each, and twenty-seven old bonds due in 1866—seven for £112 10s. each, and twenty for £22 10s. each—and that there was to the credit of the State £3,156 15s. 8d., equivalent to $17,362.30.

It is known that Gov. Smith omitted to have the bonds endorsed by him for railroad companies properly registered. After the induction of Gov. Lindsay into office, he attempted by correspondence with the various railroad companies to supply the omission of his predecessor; but if our information be correct, Gov. Lindsay also endorsed bonds of which we find no record. In the report of the auditor the amount of bonds endorsed for the Selma, Marion and Memphis Rail Road Company is stated to be $720,000. The late president of the company informs us that $765,000 of the bonds of that company were endorsed by the State. It appears, therefore, from his statement that at least $45,000 of the last endorsements were not registered.

Under these circumstances we could not rely upon the archives of the State for full and accurate information, either as to straight or endorsed bonds; and having no authority to compel the presence of witnesses or the production of papers, we obtained all the information we could by correspondence and otherwise from parties who were willing to furnish it without compulsion. We finally addressed a communication to the creditors of the State, which was published in Alabama, New York, and London. We regret to say that our reasonable request has not, up to this time, elicited a response from a large number of the bondholders.

Being, as already stated, dependent for information upon imperfect records, and the statements of railroad officials and others who were willing to make disclosures, and upon the reports made to us by bondholders in compliance with our request, we are, for the purposes of this report, forced to accept, in part, the statements of the auditor and treasurer as to the volume of the straight bonded debt, and of the endorsed bonds for railroad companies, and, therefore, our classification of the public debt, direct and contingent, will only be approximately, but we believe substantially, correct.

We have not ascertained that there is any error in the amount of eight per cent. bonds issued and sold during the administrations of Gov. Patton and Gov. Smith, as reported by the auditor.

During the administration of Gov. Lindsay an act approved 15th December, 1871, authorized the issue and sale of $1,000,000 of eight per cent. bonds, and his successor, Gov. Lewis, was authorized by an act approved 25th February, 1873, to issue and sell $1,500,000 of bonds bearing the same rate of interest. In the report of the auditor for the fiscal year ending 30th September, 1873, the amount outstanding of the first issue (known as the issue of 1872) is stated to be $745,000, and of the last issue (1873) $355,000. In the report of the same officer for the fiscal year ending 30th September, 1874, the issue of 1872 is reduced to $650,000, and the issue of 1873 is reported to be $185,000—showing that of the two issues $265,000 had been retired in some way; but other evidence impeaches the accuracy of those tabular statements.

The auditor says, on page four of his report for the fiscal year ending 30th September, 1874, that "the bonded debt has been decreased by the retiring of $260,000 formerly hypothecated with and sold to Duncan, Sherman & Co." Unless bonds were purchased of other parties there is a discrepancy of $5,000. But in regard to the amount of bonds purchased of Duncan, Sherman & Co., the statement of the auditor, and a letter received by us from Duncan, Sherman & Co., do not agree. The latter say, in a letter dated 23d March last, "on the 13th May, 1873, we purchased of the State of Alabama $260,000 of the bonds of the State at 85 cents. We afterwards, on 7th September, 1874, sold $246,000 of these bonds at 60 cents, viz: $147,600, taking pay therefor, cash $10,000 and $187,600 in funding bills at 85 cents on the dollar—$161,920." We are unable to reconcile this discrepancy of $14,000 between the $246,000 and $260,000 as stated.

We now respectfully refer to documentary evidence that there has been an over issue of $35,000 by either Governor Lindsay or Governor Lewis. The two issues are so connected in the transactions of Governor Lewis (he having used part of one and all of the other) as to render it necessary, to some extent, to treat them as blended issues.

In the report of the auditor for the fiscal year ending 30th September, 1874, the amount outstanding of the two issues is stated to be $835,000. In the message of Governor Lewis, dated November, 1874, he says: "The State has now bonds of the issues of 1872 and 1873 to the amount of one million seven hundred thousand dollars, in the hands of the following depositories,"—naming them. If of the two issues $835,000 had been sold, and the State had $1,700,000 on deposit, as stated by Governor Lewis, the two amounts aggregate $35,000 more than was authorized by law. Governor Lindsay, as already stated, was authorized to issue only $1,000,000, and the issue of Governor Lewis was limited to $1,500,000. We have ascertained that the statement of Governor Lewis in his message is correct, and if there be no error in the amount reported by the auditor as having been sold, there seems to be no way to account for the discrepancy except upon the hypothesis of an over issue.

It may be that some of the discrepancies and irregularities which we have felt constrained to expose, are attributable to the multitudinous fiscal agents employed by the State, especially from November, 1870, to November, 1874. In addition to the resident agents, in the cities of Montgomery and New York, there were itinerant agents. Gov. Lindsay and Gov. Lewis also made important negotiations, involving many hundred thousand dollars, and yet no formal report of their transactions can be found by us in any of the State departments. It is the duty of every fiscal agent of the State, high or low, to make to some department of the State a full report of his official transactions.

Mr. E. R. Mitchell acted for a time as agent of the State, under the appointment of Governor Lewis. We are informed that he holds two warrants on the treasury, amounting to $84,923, drawn in January, 1873, to pay interest on the bonded debt. Those two warrants ought long since to have been returned to the State and canceled.

The absence of reports, neglect to have accounts properly audited, and the blended transactions of fiscal agents and others acting as such, render it impossible to trace the money received and paid out by each, and their liability is consequently left in obscurity.

Of the $1,700,000 of eight per cent. bonds referred to by Governor Lewis in his message, Josiah Morris & Co. hold $650,000, which belong to the State. Part of them were purchased of Duncan, Sherman & Co., at sixty cents on the dollar, and were paid for in State obligations at eighty-five cents on the dollar. We have ascertained that $161,900 of the State obligations were used in this transaction. Governor Lewis also used $228,000 of State obligations in redeeming $350,000 of eight per cent. bonds held by Duncan, Sherman & Co., as collateral security, and the whole amount of obligations has been put in circulation. To this unauthorized use of State obligations is attributable to the present redundant depreciated State currency.

INDEBTEDNESS OF THE STATE.

The direct and contingent indebtedness of the State is $30,000,000. The recognized direct debt, exclusive of bonds issued or loaned to railroad companies, consists of bonds bearing five, six and eight per cent. interest; bonds issued for temporary loans; bonds hypothecated with and sold by the New York Guaranty and Indemnity Company, on account of a temporary loan; bonds hypothecated with and sold by assignees appointed by the United States District Court, in bankrupt cases; State obligations, bearing eight per cent. interest; State certificates, known as "Patton money;" Trust funds, and some small claims against the State.

The recognized direct debt arising from aid given to railroad corporations, consists of bonds bearing seven per cent. interest, payable in coin. These bonds were issued and used in substitution, under what is known as the $4,000 per mile act.

The contingent direct debt is composed of bonds hypothecated; a claim of the South & North Railroad Company for part of the three per cent. fund; an alleged balance due the public school fund, and a claim of W. A. C. Jones.

The contingent liability of the State on account of aid to railroad companies, embraces bonds endorsed for and bonds loaned to railroad corporations.

We will present these various classes of indebtedness, direct and contingent, in the order named, and for the purpose of reference will denominate them classes one, two, three and four.

To adjust and settle the five, six and eight per cent. bonds issued and sold directly by the State, including bonds used in renewal or extension of those issued before the war (except the $21,000 of five per cent. bonds due in 1872, and $253,500 of eight per cent. bonds belonging to the Agricultural & Mechanical College,) we have submitted to the holders thereof a proposition, a copy of which we append, marked "Exhibit A." It is to cancel the past due interest and such as will accrue up to 1st July, 1876, and to substitute a new bond for the face of those outstanding—the new bond to have thirty years to run and bear interest at the rate of two per cent. per annum for five years from 1st July, 1876; three per cent. from 1st July, 1881, to 1st July, 1896; four per cent. for the next ten years, and five per cent. for the remaining ten years—principal and interest payable in the city of New York in lawful money of the United States, and the bonds to be renewable at the pleasure of the State, at five per centum per annum.

This proposition has been accepted by the holders of bonds amounting to about $3,000,000, and will no doubt be accepted by all who legitimately hold five, six and eight per cent. bonds. We recommend that all other bonds included in class one (except those held by the Agricultural & Mechanical College,) and also the balance due the New York Guaranty & Indemnity Company, Duncan, Sherman & Co., and the assignees in bankruptcy, be settled in like manner—that is, by the use of the new consolidated bond described in Exhibit "A."

This settlement will save to the State fully $1,250,000, being the amount of interest to be canceled from the date of default in 1873 to 1st July, 1876. The reduction of the rate of interest from five, six and eight per centum on the old bonds, to two, three, four and five per centum on the new bonds, is a feature of the compromise which will commend the settlement to the tax payers of Alabama. It will save annually a very large amount, so long as the bonded debt may remain unpaid, and will remove all apprehension of oppressive taxation.

CLASS TWO.

Under an act approved 21st April, 1873, the State has issued direct bonds, bearing seven per centum interest, payable in coin, to the South & North, Grand Trunk, and Savannah & Memphis railroad companies, amounting to $1,156,000, to-wit: To South & North $732,000; Grand Trunk $220,000; and to the Savannah & Memphis $204,000. These three companies have surrendered $5,103,000 of endorsed bonds, and there are now outstanding only $391,000 of the bonds endorsed for the South & North rail road company, and $142,000 of the Savannah & Memphis endorsed bonds. The Grand Trunk has none outstanding.

Under the provisions of the act, this part of the direct debt will be increased $36,000 when the Savannah & Memphis company return the remainder of its endorsed bonds. The whole issue of seven per cent. bonds will then be $1,192,000, and under existing laws can not be extended beyond that amount.

Of the $732,000 issued to the South & North rail road company, $391,000 remain in the possession of the State as indemnity against a similar amount of outstanding bonds endorsed for that company.

No interest has been paid by the State upon this issue of bonds, nor has any thing been paid to the State by either of the companies from their gross income, as provided by law.

We do not recommend that the State disown the compromise made under the act known as the $4,000 per mile act. All compromises and adjustments made by parties who are competent to contract should be observed in good faith by each party thereto, and should be carried out according to the letter and spirit of the agreement, if the contracting parties have the ability to comply with the terms of the settlement. But in this case we think both the State and the corporations made a mistake. The State agreed to pay a high rate of interest in coin for thirty years, and now finds that it is unable to redeem its pledge. The corporations agreed to pay to the State three-fourths of one per cent. of their gross income for five years, and five per cent. annually thereafter, with power on the part of the State to increase it until a fund is created equal to the amount of the bonds; and to secure the State the corporations have, to a certain extent, placed their income under mortgage, which affects their credit and is otherwise embarrassing.

In view of the inconvenience and embarrassment incident to this contract, both to the State and to the three corporations, we think a new adjustment, by consent, is desirable. We, therefore, recommend that authority be given to substitute a new bond on the basis of fifty cents on the dollar of the principal of those outstanding—the new bond to have thirty years to run, at five per cent. per annum, and renewable at the pleasure of the State, both principal and interest to be made payable in New York in lawful money of the United States. The past due interest on the seven per cent. bonds, and the past due taxes unpaid by the rail road companies, may be made a set-off.

The new adjustment proposed would sever all connection between those corporations and the State, growing out of endorsements, and would, we are confident, result beneficially to all parties concerned.

It would relieve the lien upon the income of the rail road companies and improve their credit, and thereby benefit those who hold their obligations. The State would reduce the volume of its indebtedness $596,000, and would save annually in the payment of interest about $64,200. The interest on $1,192,000 is $83,440. Add the present price of gold, and the interest in United States currency will be $94,000. If $596,000, be substituted, as we propose, for $1,192,000, the annual interest at five per cent. will only be $29,800, showing, as above stated, an annual saving of $64,200.

CLASS THREE.

1. Amount of claims of the South & North rail road company, alleged to be fully.....	$600,000
2. Alleged balance due the School Fund.....	508,404
3. Claim of W. A. C. Jones, reported to be.....	150,000
4. Notes executed by Gov. Lewis to H. Clows & Co.	299,660
5. Bonds hypothecated by Gov. Lewis with Henry Clows & Co.....	650,000
6. Interest on same.....	130,000
7. Balance claimed by H. Clows & Co., as per account current of 21st July, 1874.....	235,029
Total.....	$2,573,093

It is not our province to make any suggestion in regard to the claim of the South & North rail road company or the amount alleged to be due the school fund. They are not connected in any way with the bonded debt of the State, and do not come within the scope of our investigation and adjustment. We only refer to them for the purpose of presenting, as nearly as possible, the entire indebtedness of the State, if all the claims preferred against her should be allowed.

The claim of W. A. C. Jones has been referred to us by joint resolution, approved 19th of March 1875. Until recently we have had no opportunity of investigating the merits of the claim, as Mr. Jones had not appeared before us in person or by counsel. Since his application to be heard in support of his demand against the State, other duties have precluded an investigation of his claim. As soon as the evidence is taken, we will report it to the General Assembly.

The financial transactions with H. Clows & Co. are anomalous. Money was borrowed of that firm from time to time by Gov. Lewis, commencing about the 1st of January, 1873, amounting to between three and four hundred thousand dollars. The amount appears to have been reduced by payments to $299,660.20 on the 10th day of July, 1873, as shown by an account current rendered on that day. Ten days prior to that date, Gov. Lewis executed to Clows & Co., twelve notes signed by him as Governor, each for $25,000, except one for $24,660.20. They are all dated 1st of July, 1873, and are payable six months after date without interest.

The aggregate amount of the notes and the amount of account as rendered ten days after the notes are dated, are identical, but we cannot understand why notes should have been executed on the 1st day of July, payable six months after date without interest, to close an account rendered on the 10th day of the same month and year. In the account rendered ten days after the notes were executed no credit is given for the notes. The notes are not in the form of commercial paper.

As collateral security, Gov. Lewis deposited with H. Clows & Co. $650,000 of the eight per cent. bonds of the State, which Clows & Co. disposed of, and they are now outstanding against the State.

On the 21st of July, 1874, a supplemental account current was rendered by H. Clows & Co., in which the State is credited with the proceeds of an assumed sale of the $650,000 of eight per cent. bonds at twenty and twenty-one cents on the dollar, but no notice is taken of the twelve notes. In the latter account the balance brought down against the State is $235,029.43. In this latter account the balance of $299,660.20, shown by the account rendered 10th of July, 1873, to be due at that date, is brought forward, notwithstanding notes had been given to Clows & Co. for that amount.

This fictitious sale of the bonds was made by Clows & Co. after they had hypothecated them with sundry capitalists who had advanced money on them, and we are informed by the parties who held the bonds last summer that they had no knowledge of, or participation in, the pretended sale at twenty and twenty-one cents on the dollar.

Growing out of this remarkable transaction between Gov. Lewis and H. Clows & Co., three distinct classes of claims are now presented against the State :

1. Twelve notes executed by Gov. Lewis, dated 1st July, 1873.....	$ 299,660 20
2. Bonds bearing eight per cent. interest from 1st July, 1873.....	650,000 00
3. Alleged balance due H. Clows & Co. on 21st July, 1874.....	235,039 43
Making.....	<hr/> $1,184,689 63

besides interest, to cover an indebtedness which was only $299,660.20 on the 10th of July, 1873, and an alleged advance of $10,041.25 made on the 23d July, 1873.

The notes are held by the Fourth National Bank of New York, but they were not purchased or discounted by the bank. We have satisfactory evidence that they were turned over to the bank on or after the day when the failure of Clows & Co. was announced, as indemnity for money advanced on open account.

The hypothecated bonds ($650,000) are held by sundry parties whose names are known to us. They were hypothecated by Clows & Co., and money was advanced on them. We do not know exactly how much was advanced by each party, but if our information be correct, the average advance was about fifty cents on the dollar—enough to extinguish the demands of Clows & Co. against the State, whether in the form of an account or notes.

The State is only liable for the amount of the debt which was due to Clows & Co., amounting to about three hundred and ten thousand dollars, with interest. This amount is all that we recommend to be arranged by the State; and as to which of the claimants it belongs we do not undertake to decide. Until the parties interplead and establish such rights as they may have, the State cannot safely determine to whom payment should be made.

What shall be done with this class of alleged liability or contingent indebtedness?

The State aid system was inopportunately inaugurated. It would have been of doubtful propriety when the State was rich and prosperous, and it was certainly injudicious, as experience has demonstrated, after the State was reduced to poverty.

Sagacious capitalists must have foreseen that a State in which the value of the property of the people had been reduced from fully $725,000,000 to barely $160,000,000, and which had to borrow money annually to pay interest on its then existing debt, would not be able protect its endorsements for railroad companies, and the purchasers of such bonds must, as sensible and prudent men, have relied on the ability of the principal and not the surety for payment. They could not, it seems to us, have expected that the tax payers of Alabama, after having lost the bulk of their property by the events of war, and with an existing debt much greater than when the war commenced, and also a large amount of municipal and individual indebtedness, would be able to contribute from their diminished resources a sufficient amount of revenue to pay the obligations of railroad corporations.

The limitations, restrictions and requirements contained in the State aid law were intended to protect, and if they had been faithfully enforced, would have protected the State against imposition and fraud. But our investigations satisfy us that the letter and spirit of the law which enjoined the observance of these requirements anterior to endorsements, were violated in many instances and in various ways, to the detriment of the State as well as the bondholders, and which in the judgment of many good men absolved the State from all legal or moral obligation growing out of such endorsements. This is a question, however, which, for the purposes of this report, it is unnecessary for us to discuss.

In the case of the Alabama and Chattahoochee railroad company, authority was given to, and the duty imposed upon, Governor Lindsay, by an act approved 8th March, 1871, to ascertain upon what bonds of that company the State was liable as endorser, and to borrow money to remove the default of the company, in the payment of interest due on such bonds. Governor Lindsay, in the exercise of the authority conferred upon him by that act, decided that $4,720,000 of the bonds had been legally endorsed, and he paid the semi-annual interest due on the 1st January and 1st July, 1871, and 1st January, 1872.

Moreover, under the provisions of the State aid law, Gov. Lindsay took possession of the road and equipments, and through agents appointed by him, operated it during part of 1871 and 1872. The State thereby asserted its right to seize the road, and it may be contended that it admitted its obligation to protect its endorsements, and that it is estopped by its action from interposing the defence to which we have referred.

It is also true that the general assembly, by its enactments, authorized Governor Lindsay and Governor Lewis to sell said road and equipments, and each of them did endeavor to make a sale. These various recognitions by the State seem to forbid the defences which many believe could be interposed, and we do not think the duty is enjoined upon us to sit in judgment upon the solemn acts of the General Assembly.

It is claimed by the holders of the endorsed bonds of this company, that great detriment to them resulted from the unskilled management of the road while it was in possession of the State, and that they are entitled to some indemnity for injury to property which was mortgaged to them. We admit that there is some plausibility in this plea for compensation, but to what extent the bondholders were injured by the action of the State, has not been and cannot be accurately ascertained.

In view of all the facts and allegations to which we have referred, and the act of the General Assembly approved 8th of March, 1871, which we feel bound to respect, we regard this as a case not entirely devoid of equity, and one which should be settled by a fair compromise. We have, therefore, entered into an agreement with T. W. Snaggo, Esq., of London, agent of the holders of about $3,300,000 of the endorsed bonds of the Alabama & Chattanooga Railroad Company, under and by which, if approved by the General Assembly, the State will be relieved of many millions of dollars of contingent liability, and thereby quiet demands which might give the State future annoyance.

In full satisfaction of all liability on account of endorsements for that company, and of all other claims or demands on account of said road, we propose that the State pay $1,000,000 in bonds having thirty years to run, and bearing interest at the rate of two per cent. per annum for five years, and four per cent. for twenty-five years—renewable at the option of the State for thirty years at five per cent. per annum. The bonds and coupons are to be made payable in the city of New York in lawful money of the United States.

The rate of interest is fixed at two per cent. for five years in consideration of the remission of such unpaid taxes as were due from the company on 30th September last.

For further particulars of this agreement we refer you to Exhibit "B."

This agreement, if consummated, taken in connection with a sale of the lands mortgaged to the State to secure the payment of the $2,000,000 of straight bonds loaned to the company (the terms of which will be seen by reference to Exhibit "C"), will retire about nine millions of dollars of contingent liability, and put at rest all controversy and anxiety on account of the connection of the State with this ill-fated company.

Another inducement to enter into this agreement is the probable financial benefit which will accrue to the State. The road is now in a dilapidated condition, and under the management of a company not possessing the means necessary to repair and improve it, it will remain unsafe and unreliable as a common carrier. It will also continue useless as a source of revenue to the State, as its net earnings now do not equal the taxes upon its assessed value.

A first-class railway, running through the State a distance of 240 miles, and furnishing traveling and transportation facilities to an intelligent and enterprising population, occupying fertile lands on either side of the road, and which would contribute largely to the development of immense mineral wealth now latent in mines of coal and iron, is a desideratum which we believe would be supplied by an approval and consummation of the agreement which we have made with Mr. Snagge. We are assured that if the bondholders become the owners of the road, and can add to the title which will be obtained under a decree of the United States Circuit Court, a transfer of the rights of the State under its statutory lien, and can secure $1,000,000 in bonds of the State, even at the low rate of interest proposed, they will put the road in good order and make it in all respects a first-class road.

If the road were put in good order its business would increase, and the taxes from the road alone would no doubt equal the interest to be paid on the new bonds. The average amount of taxes assessed against the company from 1871 to 1874 inclusive, is $37,377 81. To this add the revenue which would be derived from the enhanced value of property along the line of road, and it will be apparent that no apprehension of loss to the State need be indulged.

Considered, therefore, in a financial aspect, we deem it wise to settle with the bondholders as we propose.

As to the other five roads—the Montgomery & Eufaula, East Alabama & Cincinnati, Selma & Gulf, Selma, Marion & Memphis, and New Orleans & Selma—the undersigned submit, that there is litigation pending in the courts of this State and Tennessee of an important character, involving points of law that will in all probability very materially change the aspect of what is claimed as the liability of the State upon its endorsement of the bonds of those companies; and we trust may result in convincing the holders of said bonds that their true interest will be best advanced by their acceptance of a transfer of the lien of the State created by statute, and giving to the State a full discharge from those pretended claims against it.

We recapitulate the indebtedness of the State, direct and contingent, as follows:

Amount in class one.....	$11,667,470
“ “ “ two.....	1,156,000
“ “ “ three.....	2,573,093
“ “ “ four.....	14,641,000

Total..... $30,037,563

To recognize every claim preferred against the State would render the payment of interest, to say nothing of the principal, of such an enormous debt utterly impossible—even at a very low rate. It would be to acknowledge an indebtedness equal to one-fifth of all the property of the people—and to provide for the annual interest which would accrue, would require a tax, if not inhibited by the constitution, which would be tantamount to confiscation. It is apparent, therefore, that a just and honorable compromise is indispensable. Unjust claims must be rejected, and those which are acknowledged must necessarily be reduced.

RESOURCES OF THE STATE.

The revenue for the past fiscal year amounted to $1,066,000. It will be less this year, as the assessments of railroad property show great depreciation of that species of property. We estimate that the receipts during the current year will not exceed $1,040,000. This amount will be subject to the abatement made under the present revenue law to those who paid their taxes in October, November and December.

The expenses of the State during the past fiscal year, exclusive of appropriations to public schools and of interest paid to the University and the Agricultural & Mechanical College, and interest on State obligations, were about $500,000. The expenses of the late constitutional convention were a proper charge upon the treasury for the past fiscal year, and if they had been paid out of the revenue of that year the entire legitimate expenses of the State would have been $530,000. But the treasury was depleted at the time the convention was held, and the per diem of the delegates, and other expenses, were provided for by a temporary arrangement. Hence a charge upon the treasury has been transferred from the past to the present fiscal year. We assume, however, that the expenses of the State will be reduced to an extent equal to the amount expended in holding the constitutional convention.

Assuming that the General Assembly will fix the rate of interest on the United States surplus revenue fund at 4 per cent., the deduction from the whole revenue of $1,040,000, or whatever it may be, will be as follows :

State expenses.....	$500,000
Interest on trust fund.....	100,000
Direct appropriation to public schools.....	100,000
Interest on the University fund.....	24,000
Interest on bonds held by the Agri. & Mech. College	20,280
Interest on State obligations, about.....	54,000

Leaving (if the revenue should be as estimated, $1,040,000) $241,720 to be appropriated as the general assembly may direct.

In postponing the payment of any interest on the new bonds tendered to the creditors embraced in class one, we have had in view the importance of retiring the State obligations as rapidly as possible; and if the surplus of this fiscal year should be used for that purpose, we think a sufficient amount of the obligations will be retired in two years to bring the remainder to par, or so near to par as to remove the inconvenience and most of the loss now incidental to their circulation as a currency. Our scheme of adjustment is based upon the supposition that for at least one year all the surplus which may accumulate in the treasury will be applied as we have indicated.

The improvement and ultimate extinction of the present depreciated State currency we regard as indispensable to the successful execution of our plan for settling the public debt. If the State obligations continue to be receivable in payment of taxes, and should remain at the present discount of about twenty per cent., the State, after 1st of July next, (when interest will commence to run on the new bonds) will be subjected to an annual loss of $40,000 in providing United States currency to pay interest on the adjusted debt. With other legitimate demands upon the treasury—expenses of the State government and support of the public schools—this addition of $40,000 would be very embarrassing.

One thing needed by the State now is indulgence. Its finances are broken down, and the State needs rest. So far as the public debt is concerned our proposed adjustment is based upon the well known poverty of the people and consequent empty treasury. We propose that the payment of interest be postponed so as to control whatever surplus there may be for one year and apply it to other purposes. After next July we fix the rate of interest at only two per cent. on nearly all of the adjusted, to be gradually increased until it reaches the maximum rate as stipulated. By that time the reforms of the new constitution will be in operation, and the State, we hope, will have regained much of its lost prosperity.

It will be admitted that a well digested financial scheme may be easily executed if all its parts be kept in view, but a disregard of one may endanger all. It would be a calamity if undue anxiety to promote a single interest of the State should induce appropriations too lavish for the public good, and should thereby prevent the redemption and cancellation of the State obligations within a reasonable time, or should subject the State to default after the public debt shall have been satisfactorily adjusted and settled. Wisdom suggests that the finances of the State be placed upon a solid basis, and then the success of public schools and other important interests will be assured.

In the discharge of the duties imposed upon us we have kept steadily in view the honor and good name of the State, the just demands of creditors, the value of free public schools, and the poverty of the tax-payers. To mature a plan of settlement which would be honorable to one party and just to others, has required thought and deliberation. If the conclusions which we have reached be obnoxious to criticism, we can at least say that we are conscious of the rectitude of our purposes, and believe our action, if confirmed, will redound to the good of all concerned.

Much has been said about recuperation in this State. We believe it will come, sooner or later; but it can be retarded by acting under the influence of hope without combining it with discretion. Beyond a doubt, recuperation depends in a great degree upon the adjustment and reduction of the public debt.

Capital will not to any great extent seek investment in the mines, quarries, water power and fertile lands of Alabama, until it becomes evident that the present rate of taxation will eventually be reduced. Three-fourths of one per cent. upon the full value of property is a high State tax. There are but five other States in the Union (all Southern except one) which impose a tax as high as the present rate in this State, and both capital and immigration will be kept in check while the present enormous debt hangs over the State and threatens oppression or repudiation. But when it shall become known that the public debt has been reduced to $10,000,000 or less, (exclusive of trust funds) and the interest is regulated so as to comport with the resources of the State, we may confidently expect an influx of capital and labor, enhanced value of property, reduced rate of taxation, good schools, and a permanent and contented population.

Respectfully submitted,

GEO. S. HOUSTON,
LEVI W. LAWLER,
T. B. BETHEA,
Commissioners.

OFFICE OF COMMISSIONERS,
Montgomery, Ala., Nov. 20, 1875.

To the Creditors of the State of Alabama:

The undersigned, commissioners appointed to adjust and liquidate the indebtedness of the State of Alabama, have matured a scheme of adjustment and settlement of the bonds issued and sold in accordance with the provisions of the following named Acts authorizing the issue of bonds of the State, to-wit:

An act "to provide for the issue of State bonds," approved 15th December, 1865.

An act "to renew and extend the time of payment of certain bonds therein named," approved 18th January, 1866.

An act, "to provide for the payment of interest on the bonded debt of the State of Alabama," approved 13th February, 1866.

An act "to renew and extend the time of payment of certain bonds therein named," approved 6th February, 1867.

An act "to authorize the issue of State bonds," approved 12th August, 1868.

An act "to provide for the extension of certain State bonds, due and payable in London on the first day of June, 1870," approved 17th February, 1870.

An act "to relieve and regulate the finances of the State," approved 15th December, 1871.

An act "in relation to the State bonds of Alabama," approved 19th February, 1872.

An act "to maintain the credit of Alabama," approved 25th February, 1873.

We propose that the State of Alabama issue new bonds having thirty years to run, principal and interest payable in the city of New York in lawful money of the United States, bearing interest payable semi-annually, as follows: From first July, 1876, to first July, 1881, at the rate of two per cent. per annum; for five years from first July, 1881, three per cent.; for the next ten years, four per cent., and for the remaining ten years, five per cent. per annum—said bonds to be renewable at the pleasure of the State at five per cent. per annum.

These new bonds will be given in exchange for the face of the bonds now outstanding, issued and sold in accordance with the provisions of the various acts hereinbefore recited, upon condition that all past due coupons and such as will mature on or before the first day of July, 1876, are to be surrendered to the State with the bond to which they belong, without being computed as part of the amount to be exchanged for new bonds. All coupons, both past due and to mature, must be surrendered.

Until the first day of November, 1876, the exchange of bonds will be made at the agency of the State in the city of New York, except those issued under the acts approved 15th December, 1871, and 25th February, 1873. Such bonds as has been issued and sold pursuant to the provisions of the two acts last named will be exchanged at the office of commissioners in the city of Montgomery, Alabama. After the first day of November, 1876, no bonds will be exchanged except at the office of the treasurer of the State.

In exchanging the proposed new issue of bonds for those outstanding, all past due coupons upon the new bonds will be detached at the time of the exchange.

When the creditors of the State contrast its financial condition in 1860, and at this time, they will see and admit that the State intends to observe good faith, and that the abatement of interest up to 1st July, 1876, and the modification proposed thereafter, results from the inability of the State to do more. In 1860, the property of the people of the State, subject to taxation, was estimated to be worth fully $725,000,000, and the entire indebtedness of the State, foreign and domestic, did not exceed $6,000,000. Now the property subject to taxation, including incomes, salaries of public officers, and all other subjects of taxation, is a fraction less than $160,000,000, (as will be seen by reference to the report of the State Auditor,)—while the direct and contingent debt of the State, including past due interest, still unpaid, amounts to the enormous sum of $30,000,000.

The rate of taxation is now three-fourths of one per cent., and under the constitution and laws of this State property is assessed at a fair market value, and not at one-half its value, as is the practice in many other States. The maximum rate of taxation is limited by the organic law to the rate now imposed. If it were not so limited, it would be injudicious and oppressive to impose a higher rate.

Under the scheme of adjustment which we propose there is a necessity for commencing at a low rate of interest. There are now in circulation $1,000,000 of State obligations, made by law receivable in payment of taxes and all other public dues. These obligations must be retired before the State can pay more than two per cent. per annum on the new bonds. They are the currency received and paid out by the State, but we hope by adopting a low rate of interest, as we propose, and by an honest and economical administration of the State government, the obligations can be retired by the first of July, 1881.

Under the salutary reforms provided in the new constitution the general assembly can create no new debt beyond a temporary loan of $100,000, and we are confident the amount required to defray the ordinary expenses of the State will be materially diminished. We think, therefore, that the State may safely promise to pay three per cent. per annum for five years after 1st July, 1881. By that time the probable enhanced value of property, under anticipated recuperation, will justify a further increase of one per cent., making the rate four per cent. per annum; and as the tendency in Europe as well as America is to lower rates of interest, a good security bearing four per cent. interest will approximate par in both countries.

On the first day of July, 1896, the new bonds of the State will commence to bear five per cent. per annum, and they will then be equal in actual value to the bonds of Massachusetts, or any other State of the Union bearing the same rate of interest, and like the bonds of Massachusetts ought to command a premium.

The commissioners will recommend to the general assembly no plan of adjustment which they have reason to believe will subject the State to default in the payment of interest on the new bonds; and after carefully investigating the resources and liabilities of the State we are satisfied it would be unwise and unsafe to promise more than is embraced in our proposition as herein stated. Were we to do so, the State as well as the creditors would most probably be injured thereby.

If the general assembly should ratify the scheme of settlement which we have matured and now submit to the creditors, notice of the time when the new bonds will be ready for exchange will be given by publication in New York and London.

Should we be favored with the co-operation of the creditors of the State in our efforts to adjust the public debt, by a prompt acceptance of our proposition, we hope and believe the general assembly will approve our action and enact such laws as may be necessary to carry into effect our recommendations.

An early response is respectfully requested.

GEO. S. HOUSTON,
LEVI W. LAWLER,
T. B. BETHEA,
Commissioners.

EXHIBIT "B."

The following are the terms of a proposed settlement by way of compromise, arrived at after prolonged discussion between the Governor of Alabama, the commissioners appointed under the statute of the general assembly of Alabama of December 17th, 1874, entitled "An act for the appointment of commissioners to liquidate and adjust all claims against the State of Alabama, arising from bonds issued or endorsed in the name of the State," and Mr. T. W. Snaggo, the standing counsel of the corporation of foreign bondholders, acting under instructions from the council of the corporation, to confer with the said Governor and commissioners. The settlement by way of compromise, herein referred to, is in respect of—

The first mortgage endorsed bonds of the Alabama and Chattanooga railroad company of 1860, issued, endorsed and disposed of, in pursuance of, and in accordance with, the terms of certain statutes of the general assembly of the State of Alabama, namely: An act, approved February 19, 1867, entitled "An act to establish a system of internal improvements in the State of Alabama," and an act approved September 22, 1868, entitled "An act to amend the law to establish a system of internal improvements in the State of Alabama," and an act approved February 17, 1868, entitled "An act relating to the Wills Valley railroad company, and the North-east and South-west Alabama railroad company."

With respect to the first mortgage endorsed bonds of the Alabama and Chattanooga railroad company of 1869, above mentioned and described, the Governor and commissioners are willing to submit the following terms of settlement to the legislature for ratification:

1st. The amount of principal and overdue interest up to and including the half year's interest due January, 1st, 1876, to be added together, and the gross amount so ascertained shall be deemed to be the amount of indebtedness to be dealt with under this head. Inasmuch as a portion of the bonds and coupons, or of the bonds or coupons representing the indebtedness herein provided for, may have been or may hereafter be deposited in the United States Circuit Court for the Southern District of Alabama, in payment of the bid at a judicial sale of said railroad and property under decree of said court, and may have been or may hereafter be canceled, in compliance with the orders of said court, and it may not, therefore, be possible to produce them for the purpose of conversion under this agreement, it is agreed that the certificate of the clerk of said court, duly executed under the seal thereof, and specifying the description, numbers and amounts of such bonds and coupons, or bonds or coupons, so paid in and canceled, and that the same have been canceled, shall be deemed and taken to be for the purpose of conversion equivalent to the production of the actual bonds or coupons so canceled as aforesaid.

2d. The Governor and the State of Alabama will forthwith transfer and assign to the holders of the bonds and coupons, or to representatives in their behalf, all rights, powers, title and liens of every description, whether existing by statute or otherwise, and possessed by the State or Governor, in respect of the Alabama and Chattanooga railroad, upon the property embraced in the mortgage under which the bonds were issued; and this settlement is to be taken as an extinguishment only of the direct liability of the State upon said bonds, but shall have no effect upon, or in extinguishment of any lien in favor of the State heretofore in any manner created for the payment of the liability assumed by the State upon said bonds, but such lien shall be retained and kept alive solely for the benefit of such of the first mortgage bondholders as may become purchasers of said railroad under the decree of the United States Circuit Court for the Southern District of Alabama, of the 23d day of January, 1874, and the 15th day of January, 1876, as against all persons who are not entitled to participate as purchasers in the benefits of said first mortgage, and the said purchasers shall be clothed with full power as a company to assert and enforce the same, as the State might at any time have done, prior to this settlement.

3d. An amount of new State direct bonds bearing interest from the first day of January, 1876, shall be created and issued, and shall be applied in retirement of the bonds and coupons forming amount of indebtedness referred to in paragraph one.

4th. The new State direct bonds so to be issued and applied shall become due in thirty years from their date, and shall bear four per cent. interest, but shall be retirable at maturity at the option of the State, by the issue of new bonds for a like term of thirty years, bearing interest at five per cent. The full amount of interest at four per cent. is not to begin for five years from January 1st, 1876. The amount of interest for the first three years, commencing January 1st, 1876, shall be at the rate of two per cent., and for the fourth and fifth years at the rate of three per cent. per annum, subject, however, to the following conditions: The State of Alabama claims that certain taxes are due and unpaid from the Alabama and Chattanooga railroad company. It is agreed that the claim for all taxes so due and unpaid up to the beginning of the present fiscal year shall be remitted by the State; Provided, That the interest upon the said bonds for the fourth and fifth years, from the first of January, 1876, be reduced from three per cent., as provided in paragraph four, to two per cent. per annum. But such remission of taxes shall be for the benefit only of the bondholders purchasing and becoming possessors of the railroad and property under the decrees of said court as aforesaid, and any future owners of said railroad and property deriving under them.

5th. The principal and interest of said new State bonds shall be payable in lawful money of the United States.

6th. The bonds and coupons shall be payable in the city of New York.

7th. The amount of the new State bonds to be issued as aforesaid shall be for one million of dollars in one thousand bonds of one thousand dollars each.

8th. The requirements of the acts of the general assembly of Alabama of the 11th of February, 1870, so far as they relate to the setting aside a sinking fund, and to charges for passenger and freight traffic, shall be repealed, and the tariff of charges for passenger and freight traffic upon the Alabama and Chattanooga railroad shall be placed on the same footing as in the case of other railroads in the State; Provided, however, That such portion of said statute as directed that a sinking fund shall be set aside, shall not be deemed to be repealed, but shall continue in force until the judicial sale and purchase of the railroad and property under the before mentioned decrees of the United States court for the southern district of Alabama shall have been completed, and actual possession of the railroad shall have been acquired by the purchasing bondholders; and, Provided further, That if the general assembly shall at any time hereafter give to any railroad in the State of Alabama the right to increase its rate of charges for passenger or freight traffic, the Alabama and Chattanooga railroad company, or its successors, shall by virtue of this contract, become entitled to the larger rights so given.

9th. The conversion of securities shall take place in London or New York, at the option of the bondholders desiring to convert their bonds. Such conversion as shall take place in London, shall be carried on under the joint superintendence of an agent appointed and paid by the State of Alabama, and of the council of the corporation of foreign bondholders.

10th. The State of Alabama shall bear the expenses of printing and preparing for conversion the new bonds to be created and issued as before mentioned.

In witness whereof the parties herein first named have hereto set their hands in duplicate at Montgomery, this 22nd day of January, 1876.

EXHIBIT "C."

The following are the terms of the proposed settlement by way of compromise in respect of the straight gold bonds of 1870, authorized by the act of the legislature approved February 11, 1870, entitled "An act to loan the credit of the State to Alabama to the Alabama & Chattanooga railroad company for the purpose of expediting the construction of the railroad of said company within the State of Alabama," agreed upon between the present Governor of the State of Alabama, acting on behalf of said State, under authority of an act of the General Assembly of Alabama, approved March 20, 1875, to be found on page 119 of the printed statutes of 1874-5, and Mr. T. W. Suaggio, acting under instructions from the council of foreign bondholders, on behalf of the holders of the aforesaid bonds, and of the coupons representing interest due and unpaid thereon, or such of them as may accept the provisions hereof.

1st. The amount of principal and over-due interest up to and including the half-year's interest due on January 1, 1876, to be added together, and the gross amount so ascertained shall be deemed to be the amount of indebtedness to be dealt with under this head.

2d. The said holders of the said bonds and coupons, shall from time to time return and deliver, or cause to be returned and delivered, to the State of Alabama or to the Governor of said State, or to such agent or agents as the Governor may appoint for that purpose, the bonds of the State of Alabama heretofore issued by said State under provisions of the act of the General Assembly of Alabama of the 11th of Feb., 1870, before mentioned, and of which issue the principal amounts to the sum of two millions of dollars, exclusive of coupons due thereon for unpaid interest.

3d. In consideration thereof and in full extinguishment of all liability and debt on the part of the said State upon said bonds and coupons, the State of Alabama will forthwith assign to the trustees hereinafter mentioned, the bonds issued to the Governor of said State in exchange for said bonds of the State of Alabama by the Alabama & Chattanooga railroad company, and the mortgage executed by said railroad company to the State of Alabama, dated the 2d day of March, 1870, by which said bonds are secured as required by the said act of the 11th of February, 1870, in trust for the use and benefit of the persons who are the holders of the bonds and coupons of the said State, issued under the provisions of said act, and who shall deliver the same as provided in clause one (1) of this agreement; and will, also, by deed of release, assign and transfer as above provided, for the use of said bondholders so delivering said bonds, all the right, title and interest which said State of Alabama has or is entitled to for its use and benefit in and to the lands and property described in said mortgage executed by said Alabama & Chattanooga railroad company, and hereinbefore mentioned, and obtained thereby and therefrom, and also all right, title, estate and interest acquired by purchase under decree of the District Court of the United States at Montgomery for the Middle District of Alabama, in the proceedings in the matter of the bankruptcy of the said Alabama & Chattanooga rail road company. The mortgages, if any, upon the telegraph line and telegraph offices, on the machine shops and all or any other property belonging to the Alabama & Chattanooga rail road, and on all coal mines, and iron and mineral lands, and iron and manufacturing establishments, in the said statute of the 11th of February, 1870, referred to, which exist or may exist in favor of the State of Alabama, or to which by the operation of said statute the State of Alabama may have become entitled, shall be and are also hereby released and assigned to said trustees in trust for the benefit of the holders of such said bonds and coupons, as may accept the provisions hereof, and the State of Alabama hereby releases and surrenders all demands upon the said rail road, except as herein otherwise provided for.

4th. The assignment and release in the last item above stipulated, is not to embrace the title to any land which the State of Alabama has acquired as a naked trustee under any act of congress for the construction of any rail road, but is to be the title only which the State has acquired beneficially for itself, or for its indemnity and protection against loss by reason of the issue by the State of the bonds for two millions of dollars, mentioned in the first item of this memorandum, whether under said mortgage by said rail road company or under the proceedings, sales and decrees of the court in the said bankrupt proceedings.

5th. As some of the lands intended to be conveyed by said mortgage to the State by said Alabama & Chattanooga Railroad Company lie within the conflicting or overlapping limits of lands granted by similar acts of congress to other railroad companies, and a division of said lands has not yet been effected, but they, in truth, form a part of the security which the State holds for its protection in respect of the bonds mentioned in the first item hereof, the said Governor of the State will advise and recommend to the General Assembly of the State that the title to such lands as may hereafter be divided and assigned for the benefit of the Alabama and Chattanooga Railroad Company, be also conveyed as is herein provided in the second item of this memorandum, the same being in equity and justice a part of the consideration which the said State should yield for the relief of the liability of said State upon its said two millions of bonds.

6th. The said trustees shall have power to sue for, collect, recover, receive and apply for the benefit of said holders of bonds and coupons, as hereinafter provided, for all the money yet unpaid by purchasers from said railroad company, for and in respect of portions or parts of said lands which have been, or purport to have been, sold by said railroad company under the authority reserved to it by the act of February 11, 1870; and said trustees shall have further power to sue for, recover and collect of and from any person, persons or corporations any and all sums of money received by them or remaining in their hands and arising from any sales heretofore made of any portion of said lands, and which amounts should have been, but have not been, accounted for and paid to the treasury of the State under the said act of 11th February, 1870.

7th. The State of Alabama hereby agrees to release and surrender all and every lien, charge and incumbrance existing in favor of said State upon said lands, to secure the repayment of interest already paid by the State upon said lands. The amount of such interest, so paid by the State, shall, however, from time to time, be discharged by a payment by the said trustees to the treasurer of said State, of ten per centum upon the net proceeds of such sales of said lands as shall be made by the trustees under this contract, or upon the net selling value of such of said lands as any of the beneficiaries under this contract may, themselves, acquire title to from said trustees, until the whole amount of interest so paid is discharged; and no further or other claim for repayment of said amount shall be made by said State.

8th. It is further agreed that the Governor will recommend that the lands hereby proposed to be conveyed by the State of Alabama, for the purposes hereof, shall be exempt from taxation for a period of not less than eight years from the date of the conveyance thereof to the trustees hereinafter mentioned. But when any of said lands shall be sold or disposed of by said trustees to other parties, they shall be and become subject to taxation as other lands in the State, or as the legislature may direct.

9th. If the bondholders acquiring the lands under this agreement, or their trustees, shall seek to set aside any sales of lands already effected, (or purporting to have been effected,) the State will afford facility to enable them to do so by permitting the suit to be brought in the name of the State, or otherwise, upon a proper indemnity for costs being given.

10th. Such provisions of the statute of the General Assembly of Alabama of the 11th of February, 1870, as direct that a sinking fund shall be set apart by the Alabama and Chattanooga Railroad Company to secure the State of Alabama in respect of bonds issued under that act, are hereby declared to be in force for the benefit of the bondholders accepting this agreement; such provisions, however, shall be deemed to be repealed so soon as the road and property of said railroad company shall have been purchased and actual possession thereof obtained by the holders of the first mortgage endorsed bonds of said company under the decrees of the United States circuit court before mentioned.

11th. The Governor will recommend that such provisions of any statute of the General Assembly of Alabama as confer upon the present Governor the power of dealing, in respect of said lands, shall be so modified as to confer a like power upon his successors.

12th. For the purpose of carrying into effect the settlement herein made, it is agreed that the lands hereby intended to be applied for the benefit of said bondholders, as well as all interest held or acquired by the State of Alabama therein, and all other rights hereby intended to be released and assigned in or to said lands shall be conveyed to and held by two trustees, of whom one shall always be nominated and appointed by the Governor or General Assembly of Alabama, and the other by a majority in number and value of such of the holders of said bonds and coupons as shall on or before the first day of May, 1876, or at the time of the occurrence of such vacancy, have come in and exchanged their bonds under this agreement; and such trustees shall have power, and it shall be their duty, to sell such portions of said lands as they may find expedient in order to carry out the purposes of this trust, in the manner most beneficial to the bondholders accepting this contract, and to dispose of, convey and make title to the same to individuals, or to foreign or native corporations, until the whole of said lands shall be sold; and said trustees, after deducting from the net proceeds of said sales the amount of ten per cent. before mentioned, and for the purpose before mentioned, shall distribute and apply the remainder of the proceeds of said sales from time to time among such bondholders as shall have surrendered their bonds, so that each bond shall receive its proportionate share of said proceeds; and said trustees shall retain a share of such proceeds proportionate to the amount of such bonds as shall not then have been surrendered until they are presented and surrendered, provided that the said trust shall be closed at the end of ten years from the first day of May, 1876, after which time all bonds outstanding and not surrendered shall be barred and shall become disentitled to participate in the benefits of this agreement, and shall have no further claim against the State; and any proceeds of sales, which shall then be in the hands of the trustees shall be distributed pro rata among the holders of bonds who shall have surrendered their bonds; and any lands then remaining unsold in the hands of said trustees shall thenceforward be held by them in trust solely for the sole benefit of such holders of said bonds and coupons as shall have come in and surrendered their bonds under this agreement.

13th. The expenses of carrying out the trust herein mentioned shall be borne ratably by the beneficiaries under this agreement. The said trustees shall receive compensation for their services by such amount of commission upon the proceeds of sales of said lands as the majority in number and value of said bondholders who shall have surrendered their bonds shall determine, and it shall be the duty of the trustees appointed under this agreement to invite the attention of the holders of said bonds to the provisions of this contract and compromise by advertisements inserted at least four times in each year in the London Times newspaper, and one daily newspaper in New York.

In witness whereof the parties herein first named have herenuto set their hands in duplicate at Montgomery, this 22d day of January, 1876.

Mr. Maples made the following

REPORT :

Mr. Speaker :

The majority of the committee on temperance, to which was referred the senate bill—

S. B. 156. To repeal an act to prohibit the sale, giving away, or otherwise disposing of any vinous, spirituous or malt liquors, or intoxicating bitters, or other intoxicating beverages, within two miles of Walker's church, Bellevue precinct, in the county of Dallas,

Instruct me to report in favor of the passage of the bill.

In behalf of a minority of said committee, I herewith submit a minority report.

W. McC. MAPLES.

MINORITY REPORT.

Mr Speaker—

The minority of the committee, who have had under consideration the bill to prevent the sale of spirituous liquor within two miles of Walker's church, in Bellvne precinct, in Dallas county, have had the same under consideration, and beg leave most respectfully to submit the following reasons why said law should not be repealed.

First.—It is strongly represented in the petition of the land owners, and white citizens who reside in two miles of Walker's church, that this prohibition law, and the sundown law so-called, has had great effect in checking and lessening the crime of stealing and drunkenness, and the sale of farm products between sunset and sunrise.

Second.—The same petition of the land owners that are within two miles of Walker's church, strongly state, before the passage of the law, that they were greatly damaged by the sale of whisky and farm products in the night time.

Their farms were plundered and robbed of cotton, corn, poultry, hogs and cattle, to a great extent—and since the adoption of these laws, the white people and the colored people have been greatly benefited, and they have greatly improved in their condition and property.

Third.—The minority committee oppose the repeal of this law on general principles. It is bad policy to enact a law at one session, and before the law gets fairly into operation, it is repealed at the next session. We think the law should remain in force long enough to show that it is a good law or bad law before it is repealed.

Fourth.—The minority of your committee believe that this law should not be repealed simply to allow one man the privilege of selling whisky, when so many of the good people resist.

Fifth.—We believe there is no principle better established than the fact, that sale of whisky to the white and colored people, in the main, is a great evil, and should be checked and stopped whenever it can be done.

L. M. WILSON,
J. C. KIRKLAND,
W. McC. MAPLES.

The majority and minority reports were received.

The bill was then ordered to a third reading forthwith, and read the third time and passed—yeas 56, nays 24.

Those who voted yea are—

Messrs. Allen, Andrews, Baldwin, Barnett, Barron, Bennett, Blevins, Bliss, Boyd, Bozeman, Brewer, Baker, Brantley, Brown, Cashin, Clements, Cook, Coon, Cockrell, Crews, Dickson, Dillon, Espy, Fagan, Fielder, Gibson, Greene of Leo, Gulledege, Harris of Chambers, Harris of Dallas, Harris of Perry, Heaton, Herman, Holloway, Jenkins, Jones of Russell, Lee, Lewis, Locke, Martin, Matthews, Price, Prowell, Reese, Ross, Rousseau, Stallworth, Stevens, Straughn, Stribling, Townsend, Wharton, Wood of Marengo, Wood of Talladega, Woolf and Wynne—56.

Those who voted nay are—

Messrs. Speaker, Aldridge, Betts, Bonner, Chambers, Farriss, Franklin, Grant, Greene of Jefferson, Hamilton, Higgins, Huey, Kirkland, Maples, Nelson, Reid, Rice, Shepard, Sims, Smith of Franklin, St. John, Troup, Wilson and Wither; spoon—24.

Pending the consideration of which the hour of 11 o'clock arrived, when the house proceeded to the consideration of the special order for that hour, viz., the senate bill—

S. B. 80. To close the accounts and settle the contract made by the board for the improvement of the river, harbor and bay of Mobile.

Mr. Billups submitted the following

MINORITY REPORT:

The undersigned members of the committee on local legislation, to which was reported the bill "To close the accounts and settle the contracts of the board for the improvement of the river, harbor and bay of Mobile," beg leave to submit the following minority report, with statement of some of the leading facts and reasons which have guided them in the conclusions that the bill ought to be passed:

The object of the bill is to make it the duty of the commissioners of revenue of Mobile county, to examine the validity of any claims against the county, growing out of contracts made with the river and harbor board, for deepening and widening a channel in the bay of Mobile, and if any such be found by them to be just and unpaid, to provide the means of paying the same.

It is admitted that Messrs. Kimball & Slaughter had such a contract with the harbor board; that by their contract they are justly entitled to six of the bonds of the county for one thousand dollars each, or to their value; and that the harbor board, as such, has neither bonds nor money to pay them.

The county commissioners deny the legal liability of the county under this contract, and they refer to a decision of the supreme court which seems to settle that question.

An examination of the decisions of the supreme court, and certain statutes of this State on this matter, clearly shows that Messrs. Kimball & Slaughter have no remedy under their contract against the county or against the harbor board.

This peculiar condition of the case arises partly from the operation of two acts of the general assembly, and partly from the proceedings of the county commissioners and of the harbor board, and over neither of these had the claimants any control whatever.

The act of February, 1867, for the purpose of improving the bay and harbor of Mobile, so as to make it more accessible to vessels from the sea, created a body called the harbor board, and gave to the members, composing it, power to make contracts for excavating and deepening a channel in the river and bay of Mobile, and to supervise the execution of the same. And in the same act it was made the duty of the county commissioners to issue, on the requisition of the harbor board, the bonds of the county to an amount not exceeding one million dollars.

Under this act, sometime in 1871, the county commissioners did issue and deliver to the harbor board two hundred bonds of $1,000 each, having twenty years to run. Amongst others, Kimball & Slaughter took a contract to do a portion of the work, and in June, 1872, by an agreement in writing, undertook to perform it by the first day of June, 1873, and to receive in payment the bonds of the county at 82½ per cent. on their face value, the bonds to be delivered to them as soon as the work was inspected and received.

The work of Kimball & Slaughter was fully executed by the 15th of March, 1873, and was accepted by the engineer; but for some reason the board did not meet until June 1st, 1873, when Kimball & Slaughter demanded of the board seventeen bonds, as then due to them under the contract.

The harbor board, through its president, Caleb Price, gave to them a certificate acknowledging that they were entitled to seventeen of the said two hundred bonds. The certificate was evidently given because the harbor board had not at the time any bonds under its immediate control. All of the issue of two hundred bonds had been sold or delivered in the course of their business, except forty-two, which had been hypothecated in one of the New York banks for a loan previously made to the harbor board. Mr. Charles Walsh, for the harbor board, had effected the loan, and by some arrangement between him and Caleb Price, who was at the same time president of the harbor board, and also of the court of county commissioners, these bonds were brought back and deposited in the Bank of Mobile, in a short time after the delivery of the certificate to Kimball & Slaughter. On the 24th day of July, following, Mr. Price, for the county commissioners, bought from Mr. Walsh thirty-one of these bonds. Five days after that, the 29th July, Mr. Walsh placed to the credit of the harbor board the remaining eleven bonds, which, on the same day, were delivered to Kimball & Slaughter—thus disposing of all the bonds which the harbor board could control.

It will be observed that by an act of the legislature, approved the 19th day of April, 1873, the act of 1867 was repealed. The county commissioners were inhibited from issuing, and the harbor board from receiving, any more bonds, and the harbor board were required to close their accounts and to cease further operations. It will thus be seen that under the contract Kimball & Slaughter were entitled to six bonds, which, under the operation of the act of 1873, and the management of the county commissioners, the harbor board could not deliver.

The county commissioners, well knowing that Kimball & Slaughter were entitled to them by law, and that no other bonds could be issued to enable the harbor board to perform their contract, voluntarily intervened and bought them up at a price much below the price that Kimball & Slaughter were to take them at.

It further appears by the proceedings of a suit at the instance of the Harbor Board vs. The Ninth National Bank of New York, Charles Walsh and others, charged with the negotiations and with the custody of the two hundred bonds, that all of them had been accounted for, and that after the transactions referred to. The Harbor Board had neither the bonds nor the money wherewith to pay Kimball & Slaughter, so the harbor board not being a corporation; and having no money nor means of raising money, and being a mere instrument to carry into effect the will of the legislature, cannot be made liable for a failure to execute the contract, and the supreme court have determined that the county of Mobile is not liable, as it was not a party to the contract, and the commissioners had no power to make it liable.

If the act of 1867, under which the contract was made, had not been repealed, the harbor board could have demanded a sufficient number of additional bonds to enable it to complete the contract, and the courts would have enforced the demand.

The county commissioners have evidently taken advantage of the repealing act, and the peculiar circumstances of the transactions deprive Kimball & Slaughter of all legal remedy.

The undersigned, therefore, believe that these parties have a clear and unquestionable equity against the county of Mobile for the amount due to them, and that it is the duty of the general assembly, whose act at a former session deprived them of their remedy, now to furnish the means by which their rights can be fairly adjudicated.

They therefore recommend the passage of the bill which was referred to their committee.

J. A. BILLUPS,
W. A. BRANTLEY,
P. MATHEWS,
O. W. SHEPARD.

Mr. Billups moved to substitute the minority for the majority report.

On motion of Mr. Woolf, the further consideration of the question was postponed and made the special order for tomorrow, 12 m.

The house resumed the consideration of the senate bill—S. B. 106. To make appropriations for the support of the public schools of this State.

The question pending, being the amendment of Mr. Harris of Perry—

Mr. Smith of Franklin, called for a division of the question.

Mr. Chambers moved to lay the motion to strike out "$150,000" on the table. Carried—yeas 59, nays 24.

On motion of Mr. Anderson, (Mr. Clements in the chair,) the vote adopting the amendment reported by the committee was reconsidered, and the committee, by leave, withdrew the amendment, and the bill was read the third time and passed—yeas 60, nays 18.

Mr. Clements submitted the following report from committee on education :

Mr. Speaker :

The committee on education to whom was referred the resolution instructing the committee on education "to inquire into and make report in regard to all the school lands of this State from the time of donation by the United States to the present time;" have had the same under consideration, and instruct me to report that they find it impracticable to make the investigation necessary to arrive at a satisfactory conclusion respecting these lands, during this session of the general assembly.

This is owing to defects in the laws regulating the sales, and reports of the same, of said lands. The committee find that only the notes given for purchase of these lands are required to be sent to the office of the Superintendent of Education, and they need not be sent there until twelve months after the sale has occurred. None of these notes show on their face, nor does the law require them to show for what portion of the sixteenth sections the notes were given.

It is true that the law requires the trustees, or commissioners making the sale, to certify the same; giving names of purchasers, amount of purchase money, and quantity purchased by each party, but we find that in many instances such certificates have either never been made to the Secretary of State, or have been lost or destroyed.

The committee deem this a matter of too much importance to be hastily and hurriedly investigated, and owing to the shortness of the time that this session will likely hold, deem it advisable that this important subject should be thoroughly investigated, and the information, asked for under the resolution, furnished to the general assembly at its next regular session. For this purpose your committee recommend the adoption of the resolution herewith submitted.

N. N. CLEMENTS,
Chairman of Com. on Ed.

The joint resolution reported by the committee entitled

JOINT RESOLUTION :

Requiring the Superintendent of Education to examine into and report to the next general assembly, the situation and condition of all lands donated by congress to this State for school purposes;

Resolved by the senate, (the house of representatives concurring,) That the present session of the general assembly adjourn sine die at 1 o'clock p. m., on Wednesday, March 8, 1876.

W. G. LITTLE, JR.,
Chairman Senate Com.
W. M. SMITH,
Chairman House Com.

Mr. Brewer submitted the following protest, which was ordered to be spread upon the journal :

MR. BREWER'S PROTEST.

Mr. Speaker :

In the exercise of my constitutional right, I heroby solemnly protest against the passage of the bill to be entitled an act to close the accounts and settle the contracts made by the board for the improvement of the river, harbor and bay of Mobile, and present the following reasons for this action on my part :

This act proposes to impose on the county of Mobile a debt never authorized or sanctioned by its corporate authorities, or by the citizens of said county. What power has the legislature to impose such a burden on the county of Mobile, against its will?

We concede the general principle that counties are parts of the frame work of the State, and that county organizations are parts of the municipal government of the State, and that they are subject to the control of the legislature in the legiti-mate purposes of local government. But we deny that the general assembly of Alabama has any constitutional power to impose upon the county of Mobile the burden contemplated by this bill.

The rights, or supposed rights, of the parties for whose benefit this burden is to be imposed, have been adjudicated by the courts. The supreme court of Alabama, at the present term, have decided that these parties have no rights against the county of Mobile.

The judicial department of the State government, with proper parties before it, and on evidence produced by the parties, appropriately determines the rights and remedies of litigants. To this tribunal, these parties, the county of Mobile, and those persons to be benefitted by the provisions of this bill, have submitted their case; and by the solemn adjudication of this tribunal, the highest in Alabama, it has been deliberately determined that the county of Mobile does not and never did owe these persons the debt, for the payment of which this bill provides. This bill, then, creates in these persons a right against the county of Mobile, which the supreme court decided had no foundation in fact or in law.

This general assembly, therefore, are not only by this bill imposing a debt on the county of Mobile, against the will of its citizens, without the consent of the taxpayers, and against the protest of its corporate authorities, but it is undertaking to reverse and set aside the judgment of the supreme court, in a matter over which the supreme court had exclusive jurisdiction. That such an act is beyond the constitutional powers of this legislature, I assert on the authority of the highest jurist of the land.

Judge Cooley, who, by his recent work on constitutional limitations, has placed himself in the rank with Marshall, Kent, Story and Taney, has discussed this question with clearness and consummate ability. He, after a careful examination of all the American authorities, laid it down as a fundamental principle that "the legislature has no power, against the will of a municipal corporation, to compel it to contract debts for local purposes or to assume obligations not within the ordinary functions of municipal government; such matters are to be disposed of, in view of the interests of the corporators exclusively, and they have the same right to determine them for themselves which the associates in private corporations have to determine for themselves, the questions which arise for their corporate action. The State, in such cases, may remove restrictions and permit action, but it cannot compel it." See Cooley on Const. Limt., page 230. On page 235 he says: "And to hold that the legislature may go further, and under its power to control the taxation of the political divisions and organizations of the State, compel them; without the consent of their citizens, to raise money for such, or any unusual purposes, or to contract debts, therefore, seems to us to be introducing new principles into our system of local self-government, and to be sanctioning a centralization of power, not within the contemplation of the makers of the American constitution. We think, when any such forced taxation is resisted by the municipal organizations it will be very difficult to defend it as a proper exercise of legislative authority in a government whose power is distributed on the principles which prevail here.

To the same effect, see what Judge Breese says in People vs. Mayor of Chicago, 51 Ill. Reports, 17.

Many other authorities might be cited to the same effect, but it is unnecessary.

But this enactment, in the opinion of the undersigned, violates the spirit, if not the letter, of section 55, article 4, of our constitution, which declares that the general assembly shall have no power to authorize any county, city, town, or other subdivision of this State, to lend its credit, or to grant public money or things of value in aid of, or to any individual association or corporation whatsoever, or to become a stockholder in any such corporation, association or company, by issuing bonds, or otherwise.

This enactment not only authorizes, but compels, against the will of the people and of the corporate authorities thereof, the county of Mobile to assume a liability for the benefit of individuals never incurred by it.

I respectfully submit that it violates both the letter and the spirit of the 23d section of the 4th article of the constitution, which is in the following language: "No special or local law shall be enacted for the benefit of individuals or corporations in cases which are, or can be, provided for by a general law, or where the relief sought can be given by any court of the State."

In the case of Mobile county vs. Kimball & Slaughter, decided at the December term, 1875, of our supreme court, the mode and manner of the relief to which the parties benefitted by this act are entitled, are pointed out; and the relief to which they are entitled can be had in the courts against the party with which their contract was made, to-wit: the harbor board, and to which, both legally and equitably, they must look for relief. In the same case, it is expressly decided that these parties have no right to any relief against the county of Mobile.

This bill violates that clause of our constitution, section 2, article 4, which declares that each law shall contain but one subject, which shall be clearly expressed in its title. The title to this bill is "an act to close the accounts and settle the contracts made by the board for the improvement of the river, harbor and bay of Mobile," whilst the subject, purpose and object of the act is to impose on the county of Mobile a debt which it never contracted, and for the payment of which the supreme court has decided it never has been and is not now liable.

Also, section 56, article 4, and several other clauses of our constitution, the spirit of which this enactment violates, would be cited, but it is unnecessary to particularize them; what I have said is sufficient to show the solid ground of my opposition to the law and for this my protest.

I therefore feel constrained by a sense of public duty, and by my obligations to the constitution, and my responsibility to my constituents, whose rights have been wholly disregarded and stricken down, to enter this my solemn protest against said enactment; and I respectfully ask that the same shall be recorded on the journals of this house.

MESSAGE FROM THE SENATE.

SENATE CHAMBER,
March 8, 1876.

Mr. Speaker :

The senate concurs in the house resolution appointing a joint committee to wait on the Governor to ascertain whether he has any further communication to make to the general assembly.

The committee on the part of the senate—Messrs. Cunningham and Harris of Russell.

Respectfully,

S. B. BREWER,
Sec'y of Senate.

Mr. Chambers, from the committee appointed to wait upon the Governor, reported that the committee had discharged that duty, and that the Governor had no other communication to make to the general assembly.

Mr. Smith of Franklin, said :

Mr. Speaker :

Returning thanks to the house of representatives for the complimentary resolution just adopted, I hope I will be indulged while I express to my colleagues, on this floor, the deep gratitude I feel to them for this expression of their kindness. In the varied and complicated duties through which I have passed, as a member on the floor or as Speaker pro tempore in the chair, it has been my sincere desire to discharge the duties thrown upon me to the very best of my ability, and it may have occurred, in the many trying positions through which I have been called to pass, that I may have erred; but let me assure every member upon this floor that it was an error of the head and not of the heart. In the close of the duties of this busy and laborious session of the general assembly, permit me to hope that the great questions of public policy that have been inaugurated by this legislature will be of lasting and incalculable benefit to our common constituency. Now, Mr. Speaker, I may be permitted to remark that during the existence of our term of office as members of the general assembly, many friendships have been formed that doubtless will be lasting as life itself. But the many pleasant associations that have been formed must soon be brought to a close, perhaps, with many of us forever.

Mr. Speaker, I cannot, with justice to my feelings, bring these remarks to a close without tendering to the distinguished gentleman who has so long and so ably presided over the deliberations of this house, the gratitude of my heart for the many courtesies and acts of kindness I have received at your hands.

Mr. Speaker, again permit me to thank the house for the compliment they have conferred by the adoption of the resolution.

Mr. Clements said :

Mr. Speaker :

I cannot refrain from returning my sincere thanks for the kind expressions of respect and regard on the part of those who joined in the adoption of these resolutions, for those with whom I have been associated for two years, both upon the floor, in committee room, and especially while presiding over the deliberations of the house. The kind sentiments expressed in the adoption of the resolutions awakens in my heart the most pleasing thoughts and emotions.

I have often been called to preside over your deliberations, and at times that were most trying to me, so young in parliamentary proceedings. Yet, with a steadfast purpose in the discharge of any duty and responsibility imposed upon me, I have endeavored to do so with zeal and fidelity. And my aim has been to be prompt, impartial, candid and just to all in my rulings. Neither from fear or favor have I deviated from a faithful and conscientious discharge of duty, and all my rulings have been prompted by the same conscientiousness. If there has been any unpleasant occurrences, during our intercourse as members of this house, I beg that they be forgotten, and that the veil of oblivion may obscure all bitterness of feeling, for I assure you, gentlemen, that when I leave these halls, I shall go with no other feelings than those of kindness and friendship for each of you.

My associations with you, gentlemen, for the past two winters, have been those of a most agreeable and pleasant character, and during our intercourse here a friendship has grown up between us that cannot well be forgotten.

We are now just on the eve of ending our legislative career, and soon to bid each other farewell, and return to our several homes, to be there welcomed by loving ones.

We have passed through the dreary winter, and now the flowers of spring are budding forth in their beauty and fragrance to welcome each to his home.

We will soon part to meet no more, perhaps, as members of this house. And if perchance, any one of you, in after years, should recall my name, or think of any incident that has occurred, with which my name may be connected, I trust you will remember it with emotions of kindness, pleasure and friendship, for I heartily wish each of you, gentlemen, well, and my sincere desires for your future success, prosperity and happiness.

Mr. Speaker Anderson said :

GENTLEMEN—The hour has arrived which must terminate our official relations to the country, and to one another. Before announcing the final adjournment, both the usage, belonging to the occasion, and my own feelings, require me to say something in reference to the duties in which we have been occupied, and a word of acknowledgment, and of farewell.

We have been associated together for two sessions as members of the general assembly, during a most important era in the history of the State.

In that interval of time, under the authority of the present general assembly, a convention has been held which revised and amended the former constitution and made organic changes, in many points of a fundamental character. And this constitution having been submitted to the people, has been ratified by a very great majority. Much of the time of this session has been devoted to the consideration and passage of such measures as were necessary to put into operation many of the provisions of the new constitution.

The leading measures of the session, and which will mark its character for a long time to come, are the revenue bill, and that to settle and compromise the public debt. To the consideration of and perfecting those bills, the best thought and talent, the most earnest and patriotic purpose of the two houses has been diligently and faithfully devoted. If they shall accomplish the object intended, in redeeming the good name and honor of the State in maintaining, in successful operation, its great systems of justice, and of charity, without imposing intolerable burdens on the people, it will mark a happy era in the history of our loved commonwealth. I hope, and believe, that when it is considered that our debt, as now compromised, is within our power to pay, that honor preserved is inestimable, that the larger part of this burden of debt is represented by great highways of inter-communication which are perpetually increasing our population, developing the resources of our territory in minerals and agricultural products, augmenting the old and creating new sources of wealth and binding together in bonds of closer union the interests and the affections of the people, these acts of this assembly will be hailed as the beginning of a great and beneficent change, continually expanding into a happy fraternity.

I might refer to many other bills, touching the daily business and the common welfare of the people, which have now become the laws of the land, but the occasion will hardly permit any further allusion.

Our work as delegates of the people, in the important trust of legislation, is now ended, and we shall return to them at once, content that our labors shall abide the test of their judgment and the experiment of time.

I return to you all my cordial thanks for the generous appreciation of my services, and for the manner in which it has been expressed. I will always retain it in memory as a precious recollection. I am greatly indebted for your forbearance and indulgence in the performance of the duties of the presiding officer of this house, many of which are so frequently attended with perplexing care, with unlooked for responsibility, and undeserved censure, and which it is often impossible to discharge to the satisfaction of the opposing parties. I can, however, conscientiously say, that I have endeavored to redeem the pledge I made, when I assumed the duties of this office, that I would, to the best of my ability, discharge them impartially and without prejudice. If at any time I have failed to recognize the rights of any member on this floor, or have done injustice, or given just offense to any member, the only reparation in my power I now make, in saying that I sincerely regret it.

In acknowledging my obligations I cannot forget to mention, with gratitude, those gentlemen, whom I called to the chair, and who frequently and generously aided me in its labors. By their uniform firmness and courtesy, and their ready knowledge of parliamentary practice, they greatly aided the speaker, and won the favor of the house.

I hope that a goodly number of those who have constituted this house, will return again as members of the next legislature. It is certain that all of us will not meet again. It is this feeling which casts an air of sadness over this occasion.

But the attachments we have here formed, and the pleasant associations connected with our official labors at this capitol, I trust may abide with us and be retained among the treasures of the heart.

And now, tendering to you again my grateful acknowledgment for your favors, and my best wishes for your individual health and happiness, I proceed to the performance of the only duty which remains to me, by announcing, as I now do, that the house of representatives of the State of Alabama stands adjourned sine die.

D. C. ANDERSON,

Speaker of the House.
